Extensive Reorganization Plans Are Presented To Congress

Streamlining Plan Presented By President

Truman Submits Plan To Congress; Also 23 Messages

By FELIX COTTEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 13.—President Truman submitted to congress today 21 government streamlining plans, one of which would seek to end the feud in the National Labor Relations Board by abolishing the Independent General Counsel.

The largest batch of government reorganization plans ever drafted was forwarded to congress with 23 accompanying messages. The president completed work on them before leaving for his Key West, Fla., vacation.

They would create ten additional "little cabinet" jobs in six government departments.

Some additions: The treasury, justice, interior, agriculture, commerce and labor departments would each be given $14,000-a-year administrative assistant secretaries to help the cabinet-rank department heads "achieve better management."

In addition, the commerce department would receive an under-secretary of transportation; two new assistant secretaries and the interior department one assistant secretary.

These new jobs, the president said, are in line with Hoover commission recommendations for "more adequate staff assistance" to department heads in carrying out their programs, and effecting economies and greater efficiency.

Chairman McClellan (D) Ark., of the senate expenditures committee, predicted congressional opposition to the NLRB proposal and to plans to transfer the Maritime Commission to the commerce department and the advance planning of non-federal public works to the housing and home finance agency.

He said most of the others, however, will get through congress "without difficulty."

Automatic Unless Disapproved
Reorganization plans go into effect automatically unless disapproved by either the house or senate in 60 days.

Mr. Truman omitted from the plans the controversial proposal to shift the civil functions of the army engineers to the interior department. It is known that this was favorably considered. Indications were it was dropped from the present batch of plans at the last minute.

McClellan said he had urged administration officials to send up less controversial plans first. He said he believes the president is following this policy.

The president predicted that

Next Sunday marks the first anniversary of the spectacular fire that destroyed the Central Presbyterian church on the public square.

Spring arrives early next week but the weather conditions of the past few weeks give little indication of anything springlike.

PA News noted this morning that a little steam was still rising from the ruins of the Clendenin building fire which occurred two weeks ago this morning.

PA News observed a car with an Ohio license passing through the city at noon which was covered with snow and ice, indicating that they were having some rough weather northwest of here.

Daily Weather Report

PRESIDENT LEAVES FOR VACATION

WASHINGTON, D. C.—President Truman waves goodbye to all as he prepares to get underway aboard presidential yacht Williamsburg. The President left Sunday for a vacation in Florida, this time traveling to the Key West aboard yacht.

President Is En Route South For Vacation

By ROBERT G. NIXON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ABOARD DESTROYER WILLIAM C. LAWE, March 13.—The yacht Williamsburg, with President Truman aboard, headed into slightly rough weather today off Cape Hatteras on its four-day cruise to Key West, Fla.

Whether Mr. Truman will need his seasickness pills is problematical. But the forecast is three to six-foot southerly swells with cloudy skies and light showers.

The president, anticipating a three-week vacation in the sun, retired early last night after a leisurely trip down the Potomac river and Chesapeake Bay into the Atlantic.

Dense Fog
Radar aids were used to guide the presidential craft through a dense fog which enveloped the lower Potomac. And foghorns kept a raucous vigil along the route. Despite intermittent rain squalls, Chesapeake Bay was as smooth as a millpond.

Mr. Truman was in gay spirits as he boarded the yacht at the naval yard in Washington Sunday morning. Mrs. Truman and Defense Secretary Johnson bade him goodbye.

Accompanying the president are his assistant, John R. Steelman; Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughn, military aide; Rear Adm. Robert L. Lawson, naval aide; Secretaries William Hassett and Charles G. Ross, and Brig. Gen. Wallace Graham, his physician.

Mrs. Truman and their daughter, Margaret, will join the chief executive soon at Key West.

Delay Plan For Excise Tax Cut

WASHINGTON, March 13.—(INS)—House tax legislators today rejected a move to cut excise taxes immediately and voted instead to work out an omnibus measure offsetting revenue losses.

The ways and means committee defeated, by a straight party vote of 15 to 10, a motion by Rep. Woodruff (R) Mich., that the committee "immediately prepare" legislation providing a reduction or elimination of excise taxes.

The Republican motion was the first order of business as the tax department met behind closed doors to work out new legislation after weeks of public hearings.

Three Hundred Seek Census Enumerator Jobs In Lawrence Co.

According to announcement made today by Martin Stein, assistant area supervisor, the census department is closing down on applications for enumerators in Lawrence County.

There are some 300 applicants for 93 enumeration jobs, and no further applications will be taken, he said.
Training of enumerators selected will be started on March 27, he said. Five crew leaders in Lawrence County will be in charge of this training, each having about 20 enumerators in his group for instruction.

Demand For Meat Weaker This Winter

WASHINGTON, March 13.—The Agricultural department reports that demand for meat is somewhat weaker than it was last winter.
Consumer demand for meat has been affected by a small drop in incomes compared with last winter. There also is evidence, the department said, that retail value of meat in relation to incomes is a little lower.

Stalin Gets All Votes Cast In Soviet Election

By NATALIA RENE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, March 13.—Premier Stalin was reported today to have received 100 per cent of his constituency's votes in Russia's parliamentary election.

Balloting in the Soviet election ended last midnight and many constituencies completed their voting some fifteen hours before the midnight closing time when tabulation of ballots began.

(Foreign observers in Moscow expressed belief that Stalin now may open a new peace offensive. Speculation that the Soviet leader might be willing to meet President Truman for "peace talks" in Europe was based on the pre-election views expressed by Deputy Premier Georgi Malenkov. Malenkov said Russia is ready to participate in an "honest world peace party.")

(President Truman has said repeatedly that he would welcome Stalin if he came to Washington but has no intention of traveling outside the United States to meet the Soviet leader.)

Observers in London said that such high-level talks would include British participation along the line suggested in Winston Churchill's speeches during Britain's recent national election.)

Early reports indicated that over 99 per cent of the electorate cast ballots and in Stalin's and in Vice Premier Molotov's constituencies the Leningrad constituency of Moscow there was a 100 per cent mark. In cow the record was 99.9 per cent.

All parts of the capital featured special sports displays and other entertainments to lend a festive mood to the populace.

American Can Co. Wage Contract Will Affect 28 Plants

PHILADELPHIA, March 13.—(INS)—Negotiations between the CIO United Steelworkers and the American Can Company ended today with the framing of a two-year contract bracketing a five-cent hourly general wage increase and company-financed pensions.

The pact will go into effect Thursday for 15,000 employees at 28 plants.

The announcement was made by James Robb, chairman of the union's negotiating committee, and E. T. Klassen, leading the company delegation during a four-week meeting.

The new contract covers plants in Indianapolis, Brooklyn, New Castle, Pa., Houston, Baltimore, Cincinnati, Birmingham, Terre Haute, Maywood and Englewood, Ill., Chicago, St. Paul, St. Louis, Fort Smith, Ark., Portland, Ore., Sacramento, San Francisco, San Jose, Los Angeles, Oakland, Pacific Grove and San Diego, Cal., and Ogden, Utah.

BURNS ARE FATAL

LATROBE, Pa., March 13.—(INS)—Quincy Theodore Stout, 86 of Kecksburg, Pa., died last night in Latrobe hospital from burns suffered last week when a coal stove exploded.

Stout, according to police, had been pouring oil into the stove to hasten the fire.

To Evacuate Americans From Communist China

YOKOHAMA, March 13.—(INS)—Three hundred Americans and a larger number of other foreign residents of Communist China will be evacuated shortly through the port of Shanghai.

A civilian-manned LST vessel borrowed from the navy prepared today to leave Yokohama and pick up first evacuees at Shanghai. Later, they will be transferred at sea to the American President Liner General Gordon which will bring them to Japan.

(In Manila, Vice Admiral Berkeley, commander of the U. S. Seventh Fleet, said a total of 1,600 foreign residents, including the Americans, are to be evacuated from Shanghai.)
(The admiral said LST vessels have been undergoing renovation at Japanese ports for the task and

Belgian Voters Give Slim Victory To Exiled King

(BULLETIN)

BRUSSELS, March 13.—The Belgian electorate gave exiled King Leopold III a slim majority in Sunday's referendum on his return to the throne, but reports persisted today that he has decided to abdicate in disappointment over the close result.

By ALFRED BLEROT
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

BRUSSELS, March 13.—Belgian voters gave majority approval today to the effort of exiled King Leopold III to regain the throne but his slim margin of victory may block his return.

The 49-year-old monarch polled 2,933,382 votes, or 57.7 per cent, in yesterday's referendum which was staged to serve as an advisory referendum to parliament on the sentiment among Leopold's former subjects.

A total of 2,151,810 voted against his return.

Leopold had previously asserted that unless he received the support of at least 55 per cent of the electorate he would abdicate in favor of Prince Beaudouin, his 19-year-old son.

The Belgian cabinet will meet in special session today to discuss the vote. Indications are they will not propose that parliament recall Leopold because of the insufficient majority obtained by the monarchy supporters.

Some observers expressed belief that the Liberals, headed by Defense Minister Albert Devezze, may be unwilling to accept the referendum result since the percentage is only two points above the monarch's minimum of 55 per cent.

Prime Minister Gaston Eyskens of the pro-Leopold social Christian party is scheduled to fly today or tomorrow to Switzerland to confer with the king prior to a

Open House To Be Held At Cancer Center Wednesday

Open house will be held at the Information Center of the Lawrence County unit of the American Cancer society at 22 E. North street, Wednesday, March 15, from 2 p. m. to 9 p. m., it is announced by Dr. J. Wesley Post, president.

Members of the board will act as hosts for those persons wishing to examine and have explained to them the work of the county unit.

Young Girl Scout To Get Membership

Baby Girl Matthews, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Matthews, 416 Pine street, will be honored later in the week, when an honorary certificate of membership in the Girl Scout organization is presented. The infant was the first baby girl born in this community Sunday, March 12, the 38th birthday of the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. The infant was born Sunday at 6:02 a. m. in the Jameson Memorial hospital.

The fortunate baby's mother is the former Virginia Patton who was a member of Freida Dodds' Girl Scout troop at Third U. P. church. Mrs. Phoebe Patton, 1608 Highland avenue, is the baby's grandmother.

One Of Three Fugitives Held

Three Escape From George Junior Republic

HARRISBURG, March 13.—One of the three inmates who went on a car stealing rampage after their escape from the George Junior Republic school at Grove City was under arrest today while state police were closing in on the other two.

State police arrested Robert V. Lanteigne at his Quakertown home yesterday to partially climax 24 hours of car theft and burglaries punctuated by gunshots and the wounding of one of the escaped prisoners.

The other men, Wayne Jones, of Ebensburg, and Harold Hoover, of Franklin, along with Lanteigne escaped from the school early Friday, according to state police.

They allegedly broke into a Grove City garage, stole a truck and sedan and abandoned them after driving around the city, the captive told police. The three returned to the garage to search for money.

People living in a nearby trailer heard the noise and shouted. The three fled in a fusillade of bullets, one of which apparently struck Hoover, Lanteigne told police. The trio parted company.

Lanteigne told police he started hitch-hiking at the edge of town and was picked up a short time later in a stolen car driven by Jones.

State police Sgt. Joseph Pochyba said the pair drove into Duncan, Pa., in Perry county, and stole another car. They abandoned the truck a few miles north and took another car, Pochyba said.

Lanteigne was picked up at his home and Jones, who was waiting nearby, eluded capture, police said. Lanteigne was committed to Perry county jail on charges of larceny of an auto and burglary.

Eighty Persons Die In Airliner Crash In Wales

Worst Disaster In Aviation History Occurs At Cardiff

By ARTHUR SLADE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

CARDIFF, Wales, March 13.—An official investigation was begun today to determine the cause of an airliner crash which took 80 lives in the worst disaster in aviation history, and eyewitnesses blamed engine failure.

Only three persons survived when the four-engined Avro-Tdior plummeted into a field seconds away from a safe landing at Cardiff for a celebrating party of Welsh football fans.

Sgt. W. Mettam, who lives on the edge of Llandow Airport, home field of the giant chartered plane, said he saw it coming in for a landing. He said:

Coming in for Landing

"It was 150 feet up I think and the pilot 'undershot' the runway. Then he realized he was not going to make it and began to climb.

"Nothing seemed to happen. Then the plane stood on its tail and rolled over. I heard the engines cut out and then the plane crashed and crumpled."

William Ledbury also said the engines cut out before the crash. The same story was told by three young Welsh brothers who saw the luxury plane fall and disintegrate, scattering mutilated bodies, luggage and gay souvenirs in a grotesque pattern.

Vivien Thomas and John Newman said:

"It looked as though the pilot was trying to climb to avoid hitting houses in Siginistown village. He had been flying about 30 feet above a hedgerow.

The engines cut out and the plane nose-dived and burst into pieces with bodies all over the place."

Two Improvised Morgues
Meanwhile, grim-faced male relatives and weeping women filed past soldiers into two improvised morgues to identify the bodies of the dead.

Three men, the only survivors of the party of Welsh football fans returning from a triumph over an Irish team at Belfast, were in a Cardiff hospital.

Troops stood guard over the wreckage of the plane, permitting

See Fuchs Spy Case Ending Chances For Information Exchange

WASHINGTON, March 13.—(INS)—A congressional atomic committeeman said today that the Fuchs spy case has made exchange of hydrogen-atomic information with Britain as "dead as a door-nail."

This legislator predicted that the American-British-Canadian negotiations, suspended during the British political campaign, will not be renewed—at least in the immediate future.

With the confession and conviction of British scientist Klaus Fuchs, disclosed to have scuttled the proposed secrecy of the atom weapons program, Capitol Hill opposition to letting information cross the ocean solidified harder than ever.

Seek To Break U.N. Deadlock Over China

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., March 13.—U. N. Secretary General Trygve Lie arranged consultations with individual members of the security council today in an effort to break the deadlock over China. Lie seeks an early meeting of the security council to act on the issue. The Russians have been boycotting the U. N. because of its refusal to oust the Chinese Nationalist delegation and seat one representing the Communists.

The secretary-general maintains that the Chinese issue should be resolved on the basis of recognizing the government which controls the greatest territory and population.

U. S. Policy Given
The United States policy is to go along with the majority vote of the council. Thus if seven members vote to oust Nationalist delegate Tsiang F. Tsiang, the U. S. will bow to that decision without using the big power veto.

However, top officials of the U. S. delegation maintain that every delegation of the security council must vote according to its own free will. U. S. spokesmen disclaim any intent to influence or pressure such nations as Cuba, Ecuador and Egypt, all of whom have hesitated to cast their votes.

It is nevertheless considered an open secret at Lake Success that consultations taking place in Washington on this touchy problem will decide whether a vote will be called in the security council this week to get a showdown on Tsiang's status.

To Seek Normal Relations With Spain

WASHINGTON, March 13.—(INS)—The United States planned today to take the lead in seeking the reestablishment of normal relations with Franco Spain at the General Assembly.

The next assembly meeting is scheduled for April, but it is considered likely that a special session will be called in April, after the London meeting of the Atlantic pact foreign ministers.

There also is a possibility that a change in east-west diplomatic relationships might cause the United States to send an ambassador to Madrid without U. N. approval.

There's a babble in the bushes when the dawn begins to come, and the shrubbery is livened with a busy, birdlike hum. It's the guests back from the southland, with their cheery morning song, for the cardinals are with us and they've been away too long. They expect the best of service, lunches brought to them each morn, and they're building modern houses for the youngsters yet unborn, and we're glad to hear their chirping, all too glad they've been away, but they're back and spring is handy, weather's thirty-three today.

More Charges Presented By Sen. McCarthy

By WILLIAM THEIS
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 13.—Sen. McCarthy (R. Wis.), today charged Mrs. Esther Calkin Brunauer, state department official and her husband, Stephan, a former navy commander, with a long list of communist-front activities.

McCarthy also accused Haldore Hanson, who is to head "point four" studies in the state department, of having "pro-communist proclivities" dating back to 1938.

Bad Security Risk

McCarthy charged that Owen J. Lattimore, former state department official and far eastern expert, is "an extremely bad security risk" because of past "collaboration and affiliation" with communist front groups.

Lattimore, whom McCarthy identified as a periodic "consultant" to the state department, was one of four new names given the senate subcommittee investigating his charges.

The senator, continuing his detailed charges of communist infiltration in the state department, disclosed that he referred to Mrs. Brunauer when he said in a senate speech Feb. 20:

"A report dated Sept. 15, 1947, by a government investigative agency advised that a reliable informant reported his individual as a communist and that she has been recently contacting a member of the Soviet espionage ring."

To Produce Witnesses

McCarthy told the committee that he is "prepared to produce competent witnesses who will testify to the importance of immediate action" in the case of Mrs. Brunauer.

He added:

"It can readily be shown that at least three government agencies have been sifting the activities of a small group of people whose work seriously threatens the security of this country.

"Certainly the communist front activities of Mrs. Brunauer are sufficient to seriously question her security status."

The state department declared that both Hanson and Mrs. Brunauer, identified by McCarthy as assistant director of policy liaison, United Nations educational, social and cultural organization, have received full loyalty clearance.

joint session of parliament to be held within a week.

Diplomatic and social circles close to the king's entourage in Geneva expressed belief that Leopold was very discouraged and pessimistic over the results of the referendum.

They said he considered the 57.7 per cent majority an "adequate electoral result but not a royal result" and showed that the Belgian people were still sharply divided over the royal question.

Leopold, meanwhile, refused comment.

Parliament is not bound to follow the dictates of the balloting and can stop Leopold from returning.

Most of Leopold's opposition has been based on charges that he rendered aid to the Nazis in 1940 and chose to become Hitler's captive instead of fleeing to England with his cabinet ministers.

College Student Placed On Trial For Death Of Girl

LANCASTER, Pa., March 13.—(INS)—Selection of a jury is expected to take up most of the first day of the trial of Edward L. Gibbs which opens today in Lancaster's 97 year old courthouse.

Authorities anticipate some trouble in choosing a panel of 12 from among the 104 veniremen because of the state's probable demand for the death penalty. Sheriff's deputies may have to return to the "public highways" if the venire is exhausted, officials said.

The grand jury is expected to return a true bill against Gibbs soon after his appearance in court today. The trial will get underway as soon as the jury is selected.

Gibbs, a Franklin and Marshall College senior, is accused of choking and beating to death brunette Marian L. Baker with an automobile lug wrench on a country road last January 10. The 21-year-old college secretary's body was found four days later under a summer cottage, three miles south of Lancaster.

Prosecution and defense yesterday mapped last minute strategy for the trial which is expected to last a week.

Following a visit with Gibbs yesterday, Defense Attorney W. Hensel Brown said the 25-year-old air force veteran "will definitely plead not guilty."

only official investigators to approach.

The pilot was Capt. Denis J. Parsons, 25-year-old RAF veteran who was decorated by King George for his wartime exploits and service in the Berlin airlift.

Capt. Parsons reportedly was in contact with the airlift minutes before his approach and gave no indication that anything was amiss aboard the plane.

The tail of the 105-foot-long plane was the only portion not smashed to pieces in the crash.

The plane had been chartered by the Welsh football fans to return them from the game in which Wales beat Ireland, 6 to 3, for the United Kingdom championship.

Seventy-eight of those aboard were passengers and the remaining five crewmen.

Previous Highest Toll

The previous highest toll in a commercial air plane disaster was the 55 people killed last November 1 when an eastern airlines plane plunged into the Potomac river at Washington in a collision with a fighter craft piloted by a Bolivian.

Until yesterday's crash the most costly aviation disaster of any type was the 73 men who died when the U. S. Navy dirigible Akron fell into the Atlantic off New Jersey on April 4, 1933.

Sir Vice Marshall Donald Bennett, owner of "Fair Flights, Ltd.," operators of the chartered plane, told newsmen it had flown over 1,400 hours without an accident and held the record for the best achievement on the Berlin airlift.

passenger car is in the Jameson Memorial hospital, where she is being treated for a laceration of the right hand, and abrasions of both legs.

Eric Arthur, aged 3 years, son of the couple, is also in the Jameson Memorial hospital, having suffered a fracture of both bones of the left leg below the knee, and lacerations of the face and head.

James Loftus, aged 44 years, of Youngstown, O., was treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital for laceration of the index finger of the right hand. Mr. Loftus was cut when he broke a window of the Arthur car to extricate the victims.

According to the report of the state police, Donald K. Summers, of Pontiac, Mich., operator of the carrier, said he was blinded by the lights of the car operated by Arthur, and was unable to avoid the collision. The Arthur car was being operated west on 422, while the fleet carrier was traveling east.

the Communists in China stand for everything that is great and good."

Expert On Chinese Affairs

McCarthy identified Hanson as a "specialist and expert on Chinese affairs."

He said Hanson now occupies "one of the most strategically important positions in the entire State Department."

The senator said Hanson is now executive director of the secretariate of the inter-departmental committee on scientific and cultural cooperation, and will head up a technical cooperation projects staff of the new point four program for aid to underdeveloped areas.

For the latter, McCarthy cited as his source a departmental announcement, dated Feb. 21, 1950, which he said is "as yet unpublished."

STREAMLINING PLAN PRESENTED BY PRESIDENT

"substantial savings" would result from the reorganization plans, but he would make no forecast as to the amount.

Six of the plans would place complete power over assignment of jobs and functions in the cabinet officer heads of the treasury, justice, interior, agriculture, commerce and labor departments.

Seven plans would give full executive and administrative power to chairmen of the NLRB, the interstate commerce commission, federal trade commission, federal power commission, securities and exchange commission, federal communications commission, and civil aeronautics board.

Powers Transferred

The power to name chairmen of these commissions would be transferred to the president.

Mr. Truman said these plans "will aid in making a more efficient government" and are in line with Hoover commission proposals for creating "a clear line of responsibility and authority from the president through the department heads down."

In the reorganization of the NLRB, the office of the general counsel would be abolished and its functions transferred to the board.

The president said this would "bring to an end the confusion which has resulted from divided responsibility." He recalled that the senate last year "indicated its approval of this step."

Under the maritime commission plan, the award of subsidies and all regulatory functions would be transferred to a new three-man maritime board, while a maritime administrator would handle ship construction and other administrative operations.

Other reorganization plans would:

Shift to the labor department the bureau of employees' compensation and the enforcement of wage and hour standards on federal or federally-financed projects.

Give the administrator of general services authority over acquisition and control of federal office space and preservation and publication of certain documents now handled by the state department.

Transfer Alaska and Virgin Islands public works functions to the interior department, and assistance to school districts overburdened by federal activities and certain water pollution control functions to the federal works agency.

Canada's peat bogs cover an estimated 37,000,000 acres.

Sunday Drinking At Washington Bars Up For Decision

WASHINGTON, March 13.—(INS)—The House is to decide today whether Washingtonians can drink—liquor, that is—in the wee small hours of Sunday.

A bill to permit District of Columbia bars to remain open until two a.m. Sunday—just like week days—instead of closing at Saturday midnight, comes up on the "District Day" calendar.

Hotel and tavern keepers argue that the change would greatly cut into the business of after-hour battle clubs, whose operations have drawn official frowns.

The change also would give the hotels and taverns more business.

Report Battle Raging Along Hainan Coast

TAIPEI, Formosa, March 13.—(INS)—A communique issued in Taipei tonight told of a major battle raging between Nationalist troops and Communist forces along the east coast of Hainan, the huge mineral-rich island off South China.

A Nationalist air force bulletin said, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's planes joined in the struggle in support of Hainan's ground forces, bombing and strafing the Red troops. It was claimed 1,300 Communists were killed under incessant air attacks.

The communique indicated a possibility that the fighting may signal the launching of the long-awaited full-scale attempt by the Chinese Communists to capture the 1,300-square-mile island with its valuable iron, rubber, sugar and other resources.

Members of the P. A. V. club were received on a recent evening at the home of Mrs. Benjamin Morton, 7 West Sharp street.

Birthday anniversaries of Mrs. Martin Tomczyk, Mrs. Marion Mackiewicz and Mrs. Joseph Marci were remembered with gifts from the club. Mrs. Adolph Miron was awarded the door prize.

The evening was spent playing games and later a buffet lunch was served with a birthday cake centerpiece highlighting the appointments. Miss Nell Kociela and Mrs. Harold Markowitz were special guests.

Time and place for the next meeting will be announced.

EDNA MAE HAINLEY ENGAGED TO MARRY

Mr. and Mrs. Guy E. Hainley, West Glenaven avenue, Youngstown, Ohio, former residents of New Castle, announce the engagement of their daughter, Edna Mae, to William Allison Goodwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Goodwin, of Masury.

The wedding will take place at 7:30 p. m., Friday, March 24, at St. Luke's Lutheran church, Oak Hill and Evergreen avenues, Youngstown, Ohio. The Rev. Maynard A. Stull will officiate. No invitations have been issued, and the custom of open church will be observed.

Miss Hainley is a graduate of Youngstown College where she is now, secretary to the registrar. Mr. Goodwin, also a graduate of Youngstown College, is with the Farrell plant of the Sharon Steel Corporation.

YOUNG MRS. CLUB HONORS MEMBERS

Mrs. Frank Kirsch of 3 Reynolds street was the gracious hostess to members of the Young Mrs. club on Thursday evening.

Cards were the pleasant diversion of the evening, with high score trophies won by Mrs. George Williams and Mrs. Paul Moore. The door prize was captured by Mrs. William Gardner.

Club members honored the birthdays of Mrs. George Williams and Mrs. Tom Allegro. Each received a lovely gift from her secret sister. A large birthday cake centered the prettily arranged table, with a dainty favor marking each place setting. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, aided by Mrs. Williams.

The next meeting will be held on March 23 at the home of Mrs. George Williams, West Washington street.

HAPPY HOUR CLUB WITH MRS. ANDERSON

Members of the Happy Hour club were pleasantly entertained Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. C. E. Anderson, Wilmington road.

Held in the form of a housewarming, the party centered about a St. Patrick's day theme with music and games providing enjoyable recreation. Prizes were won by Mrs. W. Scott McCaslin.

Mrs. Louanna Book and Miss Anna Benson, Mrs. Norman Duff, presided over the business session.

A delicious lunch was served amid St. Patrick's day appointments with the hostess being assisted in serving by her daughter, Mrs. Norman Cox.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. John Anderson, Moravia-Mt. Jackson road on April 14.

MARY ETTA HOOVER WEDS LOUIS GREGO

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Hoover, of East Washington street, announce the marriage of their daughter, Mary Etta, to Louis Grego, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Grego of Morris street. Vows were exchanged on March 7, with Justice of the Peace H. M. Reynolds performing the double ring service.

The bride was attractive in a fashionable green suit with white accessories.

The couple has taken up residence in their newly furnished apartment on Shaw street. The groom is employed at the Shengango pottery.

ONE-SIDED AIR WAR

Dispatches from Hong Kong display amazement at the complete lack of air resistance by Chinese reds against the attacks of Chiang Kai-shek's air force. Comparatively speaking, the Nationalists' air arm is a two-bit outfit. There are several dozen two-engine bombers and perhaps up to 300 fighter planes, including F-51s and 47s, formerly of the U. S. Air Force, British Spitfires and even some of the old reliable Curtis P-40s.

These planes are, of course, completely obsolete by present day standards.

But present day standards do not count when one side has all the planes. Observers in the Chinese theater report that the Nationalists range over the Chinese coastline and over the large cities at will. There is little or no anti-aircraft protection and there is no fighter interception at all.

Strategic power plans have been knocked out, ships sunk and rail communications bombed and strafed. An air force unopposed is a terrific blow to morale, as the people in France and the low countries while the Luftwaffe was riding high can testify.

Where is the help that Russia must have promised her newest and vastest satellite? It is an intriguing and bothersome question. It is common knowledge that Russia has a strong and growing air force. It would also be consistent with the pattern of Russia's political moves to make China a proving ground for its military machine.

The logical answer seems to be that the politburo has something else on its mind. Red Chinese morale and lives are way down the list. Meanwhile, every whining bomb is a loss of face for red Generalissimo Mao.

BEST PROP OF ALL

In these days of food surpluses the nation is shocked by the spectacle of millions of bushels of potatoes going to waste. But perhaps it's time to compare potatoes with some other foods in the light of consumption. It is easy to see that potatoes are in a class by themselves. People are eating fewer potatoes—but more and more of many other farm products.

It is a cheering fact that the average American is eating more and better food than ever before. Per capita consumption of meat is now more than 148 pounds a year, compared to 126 pounds a decade ago. Pork is being eaten at the rate of 74 instead of 56 pounds a person. And people are eating a third more chicken now than they did in the 1930s.

In these figures is seen the greatest hope to the country's problem of food surpluses. The rising standard of living, if it continues to rise, will not only make the American people stronger and healthier, but will turn out to be a better prop for farm prices than any artificial supports that can be invented.

Modern science on the farm is making the land produce more and more efficiently. Consumption has lagged behind the wonders of fertilizer, machinery, improved breeding of plants and animals. But happily Americans are eating "higher off the hog."

Ultimately it can be their spending money for food, and not their tax money for food subsidies, that will restore the balance in farm economy. The housewife's purchasing power at the grocery is what counts.

NO CAUSE FOR JITTERS

Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, answers alarms, in and out of the armed services, who have been saying that the United States would be easy prey in a war with the Soviet. That's not so, General Bradley declared.

On the contrary, he reported, the nation is developing defenses which will enable it to meet successfully any military attack and to insure ultimate victory.

While the reassuring words of General Bradley are to be warmly welcomed by a somewhat jittery people, his further advice to the nation is no less important. Americans should think "sensibly, calmly and clearly" about national security and settle into a long-range plan of defense.

The nation is particularly warned against trying to match the Soviet "plane for plane, ship for ship, or division for division"—which is just another way of stating the truism that equipment alone is not the determining factor in war. How and where it is used more often settles the issue.

The ideal family—1950 version—is one in which all members want to see the same television program.

Because he insisted on reading jokes to her, a California wife left her husband—which proved no laughing matter.

If women control 70 per cent of the nation's wealth, as asserted, it is doubtful they attained it by exploring hubby's pockets.

Britain's House of Commons, we learn, has 625 members but seats for only 400. Just another country with a surplus of government?

Let's hope that eastern professor who is teaching a gorilla to talk speeds up the lessons. We're anxious to find out the big ape's opinion of Man and his H-bomb.

Belgian Surrender Recalled

King Leopold III of Belgium, the "tragic monarch" of modern Europe, faced the verdict of his people Sunday in one of the most dramatic episodes of the second world war.

On his own demand, and one that is backed by large sections of popular and political opinion, he faced a national plebiscite to determine whether or not he would return as sovereign of the last Catholic monarchy in Europe.

The issue was fundamentally simple, but actually beset with complexities.

Accused Of Nazi Collaboration
King Leopold, known as the "golden prince" when he ascended the throne on the death of his beloved father in a Swiss mountain-climbing fall in 1934, stands accused of collaboration with Nazi Germany during the war.

The charge is based upon events which took place during one of the most confused and most debatable epoch in all history—the collapse of the Belgian army at the Albert canal and the Dyle and the Scheldt rivers, the Nazi invasion of France at Sedan and the British evacuation from Dunkirk.

Various Reasons Given
The Belgian defeat has been described as due to treachery, and the British evacuation has been set down by some as self-saviorism.

International observers have found that almost every fresh appraisal of Leopold's surrender has served mainly to confound a tangled problem.

During the war days, when censorship was fully in force, British and American newspapers released for confidential information among correspondents and newsmen a re-

HELP DEVELOP CHILD'S WILL POWER

I always have admired my Catholic friends for not eating meat on Friday. I know it costs them some exercise of will power and considerable inconvenience at times. But I've never come across one who offered an excuse or apology.

Another practice in self-denial by faithful Catholics and faithful members of certain Protestant sects is going without certain types of foods or pleasures during Lent.

Spiritual Values
Now I must confess that in my religious background and upbringing such self-denying practices were not emphasized. Yet I have long believed that great moral and spiritual values can be derived therefrom by faithful observers.

Having said in this column something like the foregoing a few years ago, a devout young woman wrote me to say she could not understand why I did not myself practice what I believed was valuable. Her question was a fair one but hard to answer. I just had to admit I didn't and hoped she would be gentle with me in her judgment.

Moral Duty
But no matter what I do or fail to do, I strongly feel it my moral duty to respect every other person who makes certain self-denials or drives himself to certain self-assigned observances for an ideal. I, moreover, feel constrained to urge my readers to do likewise. I would like to go further and say I wish also to show respect to my orthodox Jewish friends who don't eat pork at any time, since they do so with a religious purpose. And to stick to such an observance could cause them more effort and inconvenience than it might cost one to avoid all meats on Friday or certain other foods just during Lent. I'm talking about a principle here.

Now as a psychologist and parent counselor, I'm greatly concerned about the matter with children. I think we owe it to any child who has publicly taken up a cause or announced some self-denials for an ideal to help him stick to his purpose. It seems to me it would do him great harm to tempt to encourage him in any way to violate this purpose. If, for example, we knew a certain youth had vowed not to eat candy during Lent, how immoral we would be to offer this child candy or to drop a remark in his presence belittling his plan at self-denial. Rather we should applaud his moral courage.

During Lent
In a number of churches many boys and girls, especially during Lent, attend classes and learn catechisms in preparation for full church membership. How faithfully these children attend these classes and learn their lessons in these classes depends pretty largely on the encouragement they receive from their parents.

While it has been the practice of a good many secular educators to poo poo these classes, I as a psychologist see moral and spiritual values in them. I should not let any person about to espouse a faith or join a particular church know pretty well what it is he is going to pledge to be faithful to. The trouble with a lot of us and our children is that we don't really know what it is we presume to believe. And being so vague about what we believe, we hardly can have very strong convictions about these beliefs. ## BIBLE THOUGHT port made by Viscount Gort, then chief of the British imperial general staff, in which he set forth the first full story of the Dunkirk evacuation.

It was an epic of courage and military ingenuity. It paid the first tribute—now immortalized—to the hundreds of untrained British watermen who piloted small boats across the English channel to make possible the rescue of English and French soldiers who seemed hopelessly trapped.

Couldn't Make Contact
It also dealt with the still unexplained inability to the British general staff and the French high command to make contact with Leopold when the Belgian monarch decided he had no choice but to tell his half million soldiers to lay down their arms.

This may have been, in the final analysis, a blessing in disguise. As against the confusion and dismay among allied forces in those tragic days, there was the example of a German military machine that was functioning with clock-work precision.

Leopold had a unique position. Unmatched by King George of England or any other European monarch since Wilhelm II of Hohenzollern. He was not only sovereign of his nation but undisputed commander-in-chief of his army.

No field marshal or general could substitute for him in a major decision. These had to come from the crown itself. And it is axiomatic that the high-tension Nazi system of espionage that operated inside and outside of the allied lines must automatically have tapped every message that the king sent at any time to the chain of command beneath him.

Thus it follows that if King Leopold had advised the British and French of his decision to surrender—as he is convinced he did—the Germans would have learned it immediately.

That might have meant an on-rushing of mechanized units and overwhelming air strength in a tremendous wheeling movement along the channel coast, which easily could have nullified the Dunkirk evacuation and wiped out the British expeditionary force.

Whether this military aspect of the matter is uppermost in the minds of the Belgian people is difficult to determine. One angle that has been emphasized is his marriage to a commoner whom he, the Prince, had to marry. He, the Prince, was a commoner. He, the Prince, was a commoner. He, the Prince, was a commoner.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

It was a beautiful day in California yesterday . . . rather bleak and sad here in Western Pennsylvania. . . . Do you spend more than your income . . . seems to be the theme of the National Government . . . pros and cons . . . always an argument . . . can't say truthfully that it is a good argument. Deficit spending is no good . . . never was any good and never will be any good. In case you feel differently we can predict that come this Wednesday . . . March 15 . . . you are due for a sad awakening. If you spent more than your income and haven't the necessary cash available for Uncle Sam's money collectors you will find that Mr. Truman's theory of spending yourself out of debt is not the most pleasant theory.

It might have been clear yesterday in California . . . but Wednesday will be black for a lot of California residents . . . thinking now of the big money makers of the screen world. Here in the East many or almost all of the people that work at substantial wages enjoy the payroll deduction for tax purposes practice. What you don't have in your pocket you are not liable to spend . . . but there will be cases of the smart operator who will try again this year to outsmart the federal tax collectors . . . So we say, let's discard the deficit spending plan . . . let's get back to the old, grass roots system.

We are the most fortunate people in all the world . . . yet there are people right here in this community who would like to change our mode of life . . . down deep they feel that if they help the commies change this America that if the change is made they will then have big jobs in the NEW government . . . are they that foolish. Can't they read history of such countries that have already tried the "state is all powerful" . . . No we can't agree either that Mr. Truman knows all the answers . . . that he can tell all business men, big business and small business how to run their businesses effectively . . . such knowledge doesn't come to a man over night . . . and only comes from actual experience by selling more than stiff collars.

STALKING

Eating What You Like

(By HENRY McLEMORE)

I've always been the wishy-washy type. I bow to the will of others. Consequently I have dyspepsia.

It all comes from being forced to eat food that everyone else likes except me. All of my life I have been asked to take a little taste of something that someone else has mixed up to his own liking. The funny thing is—I know what they mean.

For instance—I like grits with good old rat cheese melted on top of it and it has been whispered around my home that I force this concoction down the throats of even New England guests (who have never heard of hominy grits—with or without rat cheese).

Forced Down My Throat
On the other hand, I have had things forced down my throat simply because a relative, friend or enemy has said, "Have a taste of this." I have doctored it up.

At the moment we have a house guest who likes Worcester-shire sauce and mashed potatoes and insists that I take nibbles of it so that I will acquire his gourmet's taste for this particular dish. It seems to me that a guest is going just a little bit too far when he force-feeds his host.

The first person who insisted that I take a bite of what he liked was my father. He happened to be crazy about carrots. I've always considered carrots inferior fare for rabbits, much less for men. But Poppa made me eat them. I can hear him now:

"Henry, have just a bite of this."

I would say, "Poppa, I don't like carrots."

Poppa would say, "But you do."

One Man's Opinion

By Walter Kiernan

(By International News Service)

Original paintings go on sale in a New Jersey super-market this week . . . this is a wonderful opportunity for artists to get a little closer to groceries.

It's a straight sales idea but late on a tie-in idea might be worked out . . . say a Van Gogh with every so many Van Camps.

Housewives like the idea of art and antiques under one roof . . . most are kept so busy by the old man they have no time for the old masters.

But it will sound funny to hear a woman say "I'm going to give up my butcher . . . we quarreled over Dali."

Husbands are not so hot on the idea . . . I heard one fellow say "I'll pay for meatballs but not murals."

Of course the women have their little ways of touching up the grocery bill . . . there will be many a partridge on the wall paid for as pot roast on the table.

But what I want to know is how can an art critic be objective about a painting that's hung near the limburger?

So I ate carrots. After all, when you are nine years of age you are too young to run away from home, you haven't saved enough money to retire, and being the sort of child I was no one would take me in. And even if a relative took me in, like, say, Uncle Orville, what do you think I'd get for lunch—carrots.

Now that I am a grown man I eat only what I like. If I choose squirrel ears with red-eye gravy—that's for me. Weighing one hundred and seventy pounds—and healthy—I eat only what I want to eat. If I elect to eat a dictionary with Sauce Bernaise I don't think any man on earth has a right to question my taste.

Virtues Are Few
My Virtues are few. Venus de Milo can name them on either hand. But one virtue I have—I don't try to force food down someone else's throat. The fact that I like end tables in wine does not mean everybody else likes end tables in wine—so why should they eat them? Incidentally, if you would like to have my recipe for end tables here it is:

Take a four or five pound end table and marinate it overnight in a mixture composed of stamp collections (I hate 'em) and a sauce made of old match-box covers. Take an ax and split the end table into splinters and cook them until well done over a low flame, preferably a low flame supplied by a forest fire. When you have eaten the end table you join a most select group. Mighty few people have ever eaten an end table prepared in this manner. Almost everyone has eaten an end table cooked in the usual manner, which calls for chicken stock, stockings and chicken, and the heart of a redwood tree. That's easy.

So why don't you all come to my house—all four readers of mine—and eat what you like. Nobody will ask you to have something you don't care for. But I'll give you a slow tip—you had better like turp- greens and ham hock—otherwise you'll be able to go home for half fare you'll be so emaciated.

MEASLES
Each age has its troubles; of that there's no doubt.

To all, time brings something to worry about.
In childhood it's fever; in old age it's pain.

Not long, young or old, can we care-free remain.
In cities it's rats and on farms it is weasels.

Now Ellen Elizabeth's down with the measles.

From cradle to grave there is sadness to bear.

Even innocent childhood the Lord doesn't spare.

Today, over hedges a healthy boy jumps.

Tomorrow the doctor will say: "It's the mumps."

With blotches like those on surrealists' easels.

Now Ellen Elizabeth's down with the measles.

We wonder why earache should children beset.

Yet earache is something they all seem to get.

Though fever's a danger sign all mothers dread.

Every child spends a few weeks of childhood in bed.

Now Ellen Elizabeth nowhere is going.

So long as one spot of the measles is showing.

Byrd And The Republicans

WASHINGTON, MARCH 13.

THE similarity between the "declaration of principles" recently made by the Republicans and those espoused and expounded by Senator Harry F. Byrd, of Virginia, seems largely to have escaped notice. Yet, they are almost identical. This does not mean that Senator Byrd has gone Republican, rather it means the Republicans have gone Byrd.

There is one great difference between them. Senator Byrd has held his principles a lot longer and a whole lot more firmly than the Republicans. So far as he is concerned, they are not newly acquired at all. With them they are congenial, inherited and inherent though he makes no claim of originality, freely conceding that they were the principles of Thomas Jefferson and Andrew Jackson. They were also the principles of Grover Cleveland and Woodrow Wilson. Of John W. Davis and Alfred E. Smith, of many millions of other American citizens in every state, both past and present.

IN ADDITION, they were the principles of Franklin Roosevelt, promulgated in the party platform of 1932 and urged by him in speech after speech indicting governmental waste and extravagance, denouncing deficit financing, a swollen Federal bureaucracy, high taxes and heavy debt as dangers to the nation, unequivocally pledging himself to end all these. If ever a man got a mandate he got his in the majority given him on election day. Yet, he clung to these principles a bare six months after his inaugural. About that time he became a convert to the great spending theories of the left-wing economists by whom he was surrounded. About that time he had opened up for him a vision of the tremendous political possibilities in the unrestricted control of the Treasury spigots. About that time the doctrine first enunciated by the late Mr. Hopkins that "we are going to spend, spend, spend, tax, tax, tax, elect, elect, elect" took hold of the Roosevelt regime and all those Jeffersonian, Jacksonian, Wilsonian and Rooseveltian principles went "out the window." Political promises had been broken in the past but never before with such speed and completeness.

SO POLITICALLY successful was this beautiful scheme of buying the people with their own money that after the 1934, 1936 and 1938 Democratic victories many Republicans and most Democrats in politics felt it expedient to ride with the tide and were afraid to resist the Administration demagogues, backed by the labor and farm leaders, the city bosses and the Negro bloc. The real opposition came from conservative Democrats who felt their party had been betrayed, its solemn pledges violated and its control turned over to radicals, whose unsound economic theories soon or late would wreck the nation. Chief among these was Senator Byrd. In season and out, he has branded a gallant, grim, unflinching fight—often fighting almost alone and yet, despite White House opposition, accomplishing more than is generally known. The simple fact is that but for him there would have been no fight at all within Congress against the unrestrained waste of public funds, no effective voice raised against governmental extravagance and pay-roll padding. Inevitably, he became intensely unpopular with the two spending Presidents. But presidential unpopularity has neither deterred nor dismayed Senator Byrd. He has asked no White House favors, nor since 1934, when he was compelled to refuse a request of the late Mr. Roosevelt "as a personal favor to me," to vote for a measure to which he was in principle opposed, have any been offered.

NATURALLY, Senator Byrd's fight has made him bitter enemies, but it also has made him a vast number of friends all over the country. Even his enemies have never charged him either with inconsistency or with harboring any personal or selfish motive. There are only two exceptions: One was furnished by the cheap labor bosses who, on the last day of the last Virginia campaign, put out a discreditable smear too late to answer. The day after the election Senator Byrd they were, despite White House opposition, accomplishing more than is generally known. The simple fact is that but for him there would have been no fight at all within Congress against the unrestrained waste of public funds, no effective voice raised against governmental extravagance and pay-roll padding. Inevitably, he became intensely unpopular with the two spending Presidents. But presidential unpopularity has neither deterred nor dismayed Senator Byrd. He has asked no White House favors, nor since 1934, when he was compelled to refuse a request of the late Mr. Roosevelt "as a personal favor to me," to vote for a measure to which he was in principle opposed, have any been offered.

IT IS a tribute to Senator Byrd that the Republicans, desperately searching for "principles" that will appeal to the voters against the Truman Administration, should have adopted the Byrd principles. They give him no credit, but that is what they have done just the same and they are on sound ground for the first time in a long while. It was Senator Byrd, and not the Republican party, who first indicated the Truman Administration as on the road to socialism, who first forecast the current deficit as upwards of five billions, who first laid the unanswerable fiscal facts before the people and first insisted that the free-enterprise system cannot continue to exist in national insolvency.

AND when, in his recent interview with Mr. Krock, Mr. Truman said that "in no sense does he tolerate deficit spending," that he "hates deficits as much as Harry Byrd ever could and it is a temporary condition brought on by necessities which could not be removed by any genius of statecraft known or available to him"—when those noble words from the President made their appearance, it was not the Republican party, but Senator Byrd, who in a statement pounded Mr. Truman with facts, riddled him with figures and impaled him upon his own tax and spending record until the pretense of a distant or distant deficit was made too ridiculous to be seriously maintained. If the Republican party has real sense it will let its publicity-seeking "progress" with the "liberal" communist promoters go their own way. They and figures of this penetrating and illuminating Byrd statement. If the conservative majority which undoubtedly exists, despite sectional, racial and other prejudices, might easily be welded behind a conservative candidate in a presidential election.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Is nothing sacred to the scientists?
I have never had much use for mosquitoes.

Their extermination is necessary and I am in favor of every decent means of eradicating the pest from the face of the earth.

But when the eradicating is done by tricking the female mosquito while she is in love—that is going a little too far.

Useless as the mosquito is, you must admit that from what we see there isn't much fun in the insect's life.

Living in swamps and dismal places, the mosquito certainly must get awfully sick of the monotony.

So I suspect that when it bites a human being it isn't so much hunger as envy of the human's colorful life.

Then, once a year, the mosquito falls in love.
Once a year, for a brief span, life is worthwhile.

Now come the scientists. They claim it is the FEMALE mosquito that does all the biting. So what do you think they are working now?

They are making phonograph records of the male mosquito's love call.

These records will be hidden in the swamps where they (the mosquitoes, not the scientists), have their nests.

At sundown there will ring out the lovely strains of the "Mosquito Love Call."

Being done scientifically, the piece will sound as if Frank Sinatra or Bill Lawrence were doing it.

What happens? All the end (Continued on Page Six)

Girl Scouts To Have Program Friday Night

One of the most unusual and elaborate programs over to be undertaken by Girl Scouts of the New Castle area will be presented in the Cathedral Friday evening, March 17, at 7:30 o'clock in honor of the 38th birthday of scouting in the U. S. A. Every Girl Scout and adult scout in this area is scheduled to participate. This in itself makes for a mass production.

"Community Night" is the name chosen for the celebration, for in the words of Mrs. D. B. Forsyth, executive director, "It is to let the community see what the scouting program has to offer girls between the ages of seven and seventeen that is different from what they get anywhere else. We supplement the work of the home, the church and the school. The thing that makes Girl Scouting different is the ethical code—the law and the promise—by which the girls learn to live."

Miss Emily Rice, commissioner, will serve as narrator. Many phases of scouting will be dramatized in an interesting manner—from the founding of the movement by Juliette Gordon Low, portrayed by Mrs. Ralph McCormick, to the grand finale, when all scouts in uniform stage their grand parade.

There are 11 different fields of interest in the Girl Scout program. These will be depicted by means of shields, which will tell the story for all to see. A great surprise in lighting effects and staging is in store for all.

Many of these fields, such as international friendship, dramatics, music and dancing, nature and out-of-doors, will be portrayed by troops of the local area in special skits. Of interest to many will be the camping scene, showing the girls enjoying themselves around a campfire.

The Girl Scout international project, "Scholemates Overseas," will also be an outstanding number in the program. Or perhaps your interest centers around music and dancing. Several of these numbers will add to your enjoyment.

The scout leaders, Mrs. D. B. Forsyth, executive director, and Mrs. C. M. Booher, program chairman, along with her committee and council members are sparing no effort to make this program one of the highlights of the year and one never to be forgotten by our scouts and community.

More Authorities Started In 1949 Than Ever Before

STATE COLLEGE, Pa.—More municipal authorities were established in Pennsylvania last year than in any other year since the Municipal Authorities Act was passed in 1935.

Charles F. LeeDecker, assistant executive secretary of the Institute of Local Government at the Pennsylvania State college, today reported that 37 authorities were established in 1949. This brought the total number of authorities organized in the 15-year period to 218. Approximately 54 per cent of them were established in the 1946-49 post-war period.

One hundred and three of these continue to operate in Pennsylvania and today have 113 projects underway. They include 72 water and 27 sewer developments. During the year, 12 new water projects and 12 new sewer projects were begun. A number of other new authorities were in the planning stage at the end of 1949.

LeeDecker also reported that in addition to water and sewer projects, authorities in Pennsylvania now are operating school buildings, airports, factory buildings, traffic control centers, theatre buildings, municipal buildings, and flood control projects.

Action Taken In State Legislature

Further briefs of action in the 1948-1949 session of the Pennsylvania legislature which have been sent to the local Woman's club by the Pennsylvania Federation of Women's clubs, Harrisburg, and reported by chairman, Mrs. W. A. Confer, and co-chairman, Mrs. Lyle Hughes of the legislative and citizenship department of the local club, are the following:

Free hunting licenses to disabled veterans.

The turnpike commission may be extended to Erie and Scranton, if traffic needs show demand by survey.

Third class cities may create a parking authority for construction of public garages and off street parking lots.

Farmer are permitted a 2½ rebate on gasoline for "off highway use" tractors, et cetera, after July 1.

An allotment of $750,000 for the encouragement and development of aeronautics was made.

(More briefs will be published in this near future.)

"I am planning to redecorate my home but am undecided as to the color scheme I will use. My woodwork is all dark oak and my rugs are maroon. What would you suggest for walls and living room furniture?"
Answer: If you will continue to have dark woodwork, lighten your room with colorful accents in your wallpaper and furnishings. Light green wallpaper will add considerable brightness, as will floral draperies with cream or white background if your room is large enough for large pattern. Otherwise select cream or white glass curtains. Colorful but harmonize lampshades will help reduce the somberness of your dark woodwork. If you plan to buy any new furniture, a green or gold or perhaps a floral occasional chair will add a further splash of color.
Much has been said about decorations and appointments for living rooms—placing furniture, selecting wallpaper, color schemes, etc. etc. Your living room must, to be attractive, have color and cheer. It must be appointed in appropriate furniture, harmonious hangings. But in your endeavors to attain beauty, do not sacrifice comfort and livableness.
Your room should not have a brand new, shining appearance as if it were a display room in a furniture store, nothing in it giving the appearance of having been used or enjoyed. Too much newness will result if you have all of your furniture reupholstered or replaced at the same time and purchase new curtains and rugs because you have tired of your old ones. Do your refurbishing gradually.
And remember that the ideal living room is that having an informal, inviting look, where one may find a few comfortable chairs, a table or rack with magazines and plenty of books. A few potted plants should appear here and there. Neatness must, of course, prevail; but never should the room seem too prim and new for comfort and general use.
Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

FLAG RAISING OVER ARIZONA

PEARL HARBOR, T. H.—An American flag was raised over the USS Arizona, the tomb of 1,092 officers and men killed when the battleship was sent to the bottom by Japanese bombs Dec. 7, 1941. The colors are shown being raised by Admiral Arthur W. Radford, Commander in Chief of the Pacific Fleet, to honor the "USS Arizona and her splendid crew, so many of whom are still with the ship."

Convocation Will Take Place Tuesday Evening At Cathedral

Second in the series of Protestant unifications services will take place Tuesday evening, March 14 in the East Dining room of the Cathedral. Several hundred Protestant church leaders and members of various church organizations about the city will participate.

The service which starts at 7:45 p.m. will be addressed by both local and visiting Protestant church and civic leaders.

Miss Blanche Carrier of the Westminster college faculty will be present to discuss her recent book on comics and the detriment that many of them are today to young people, and boys and girls.

Fred Lindblad of the Christian Home League, of Syracuse, N. Y. will be present to tell of the family altar work that his organization is doing in this district and other areas. Rev. Arthur Blank of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church, Farrell, will explain the excellent chaplaincy system that is in operation at the Christian Buhl hospital in Sharon, which may be adopted here.

Letters have gone out inviting all Sunday school superintendents, church boards and representatives of Protestant organizations to be on hand for the important meeting which will eventually mean unification of the work being done by the Protestant leaders of the city and community.

Blue Triangle Club Hears Carl Cotton

Members of the Blue Triangle club gathered in the green room of the Y. W. C. A. The group enjoyed a spaghetti dinner, prepared and served by Mrs. Lewis Fusco. Carl Cotton, dramatics teacher at George Washington junior high school, gave an enlightening talk on "The Theatre", giving a demonstration of stage make-up. Mr. Cotton, introduced by Miss Jessica Jenkins, also reviewed the plays, staged on Broadway during the past two years. The presentation was well received by the group.

Miss Mary Tewell, of the membership committee, was assisted in arranging the program by Miss Jenkins and Miss Ruth Jamison. Miss Oliver Webb, Miss Mary Virginia Harris, a former member of the club, and Mr. Cotton were special guests.

Mrs. Keith Fulton, Mrs. Frank McIntyre, Miss Margaret Williams and Mrs. Jane M. Cochran, composing the social committee, will be responsible for the next program Friday evening, April 14.

MEAT REWARD
KURASHIKI, Japan—(INS)—A butcher, needed by a whispering campaign that he was mixing horse meat with beef sold at his shop, has challenged his detractors to prove their allegations. He prominently displayed a sign reading: "Will pay the sum of 100,000 yen ($277) to any person who finds horse meat in any slice of beef sold at this shop." The rumor that the shop was "cutting" beef with horse meat started when the butcher reduced his prices below those of his competitors.

How Important Is This Man's "YES"?

J. J. ALEXANDER

He's the man whose "yes" helped to put an ambitious boy through medical school.

Another occasion, his friendly "yes" started a man in business and today that man's business is a growing, paying proposition.

And then there was the time his "yes" enabled a worried family to get from under a stack of unpaid bills and his friendly advice put that family's budget on a sound, secure basis.

This man whose "yes" has brought peace of mind to thousands of people by helping them get a fresh start is the manager of the Personal Finance Co. office in this city.

His job is to make personal loans, and to keep the transactions on a business-like basis. His years of experience with Personal have taught him to respect the honesty of local people—friends, relatives, or employer are not brought into the picture.

Don't borrow unnecessarily. But if a loan—for a month or a year, or longer—is the sensible thing for you (and you're the judge) the YES MAN will appreciate the chance to say "yes."

You can telephone him . . . or drop in to see him at the Personal Finance Company office. He says "yes" to 4 out of 5.

Retired Missouri Doctor Is Keeping 'Death Diary'

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., March 13.—(INS)—A 75-year-old retired St. Joseph, Mo., physician is keeping a diary of a rare disease which may cause his death.

Dr. Edward F. Higdon hopes it will help medical science find a cure for the ailment. Every day he dictates his symptoms to a stenographer who records the data.

He said today: "I've got to find out more about this disease—or I'm not going to be around very long."

The ailment is known as myasthenia gravis. Dr. Higdon said it prevents proper use of muscles of the face. In later stages, it spreads to the respiratory system and then to the heart.

Starts 'Death Diary'

Dr. Higdon started his "death diary" after he learned of his illness last fall. He underwent an examination at the Mayo clinic in Rochester, Minn. Then he learned there was little information on the disease.

He said he never encountered the disease during the 31 years he practiced medicine. When it is active, he cannot swallow. When the attack passes, it leaves a slight thickness of the tongue. This, Dr. Higdon said, makes articulation of some words difficult.

Certain drugs relieve the attacks and permit the patient to resume his normal appearance. During the attacks the face relaxes as in sleep, with eyes shut and mouth open, Dr. Higdon said.

Partly in Remission

At present, Dr. Higdon said his condition is "partly in remission." The average person would not notice any effects.

Dr. Higdon carries a drug, protigmine, and a needle, ready for use whenever he feels an attack is imminent. He first noted the symptoms several years ago. They were shortness of breath, difficulty in

Returns To U.S. With Latest On New Paris Styles

NEW YORK, March 13.—(INS)—Carmel Snow, editor-in-chief of Harper's Bazaar, returned from Paris Saturday and reported that Paris spring styles show great simplicity and casualness, with a great deal of beautiful color.

The magazine editor has been in the French capital since Jan. 20 gathering material on Paris styles.

The fashion editor said that spring colors include orange and beige—a combination of grey and beige. She added that there will be a great deal of dark blue for daytime wear. Mrs. Snow said:

"Lines of dresses this spring will be very straight and narrow, but women will be able to walk easily because of their pleated skirts."

The editor said spring skirts will be 15 inches from the ground, an inch shorter than last year.

Hats will be sailors made of straw with lots of flowers and with either very narrow or very wide brims, according to Paris dictates. The velvet beret also will be popular.

Potato Committee Gives Top Priority To Research Work

WASHINGTON, March 13.—(INS)—The potato advisory committee in its first opportunity to meet with agriculture department officials, asked something that potato people and everybody else who hears about spud dumping have clamored for.

That is that the department give top priority to research to find greater food and feed outlets for potatoes.

The committee suggested that experts also look into how to make potatoes more attractive to the housewife.

LOOKING AT LIFE

chanted females in the neighborhood will fly to the source of the song.

They will fall into a booby trap and, before I can say Bing Crosby, they will all be dead.

And, after a while, not a female mosquito will be left. So there will be no more love, no more mating, no more mosquito babies.

It sounds all very wonderful. I hate mosquitoes. But like all of you, I love LOVE.

By the way, in the same mail that brought me the report of the American Mosquito Control Association with the description of this new cruel method of getting rid of mosquitoes, came some literature from a Canadian mining stock promoter.

"Will you risk $10?" it said in large letters.

The text was beautiful. It pictured me becoming rich on an investment of $10 in a mining project in the immediate vicinity (only perhaps a couple of hundred miles away) of other projects that have made their investors wealthy.

And, would you believe it? It was this mining stock literature that gave me the idea for the mosquito - love - call - and - booby - trap - trap - column.

Navy Admiral Says Need Big Air Force

WASHINGTON, March 13.—

Adm. DeWitt Clinton Ramsey, former Vice Chief of Naval Operations, said that the Air Force should be expanded from 48 to "at least" 70 groups to insure adequate defense.

Ramsey, a pioneer naval aviator, conceded that the larger force would have a heavier burden on the national economy. But he pointed out that America's wide-open industrial areas are easy targets.

The Admiral, as president of the Aircraft Industries Association, reported that aircraft plants are geared to boost warplane production 900 per cent in two years.

Supporting this preparation, he said, are the government mobilization plans which provide for standby plants, stores of machinery that was scarce in 1941 and stockpiles of critical material.

Health Talks

By DR. W. A. WOMER

City Health Superintendent

PREVENTION AND PROPHYLAXIS

Those two words give Butch a lot of trouble. He can't spell them the same way twice.

In the health department they mean keeping people well.

A long time ago, people learned that prevention is better than cure. The doctor used to think that he was doing pretty well to bring a child through an attack of diphtheria. Nowadays he gives the babies a shot in the arm and never treats a case of diphtheria at all.

Tetanus and smallpox and typhoid formerly caused a lot of trouble and expense. Prevention and prophylaxis have made them as rare as the Dodo.

Poor Butch may have a hard time spelling them and learning what they mean but he gets the benefit anyhow.

Waynesburg Man Is Held In Fatal Shooting

WAYNESBURG, Pa., March 13.—

(INS)—Charges were to be filed either today or tomorrow against Lawrence Yenerall, 39-year-old nearby Jefferson coal miner, in connection with the fatal shooting of J. Lee Armstrong.

Yenerall, the father of five children, is being held in the Greene county jail.

Armstrong was killed Saturday in Jefferson as he sat in an automobile, talking with John Haver, Secretary of Jefferson Township. Armstrong had been a member of the Jefferson Township board of supervisors.

Observers blamed a political feud between Yenerall and Armstrong for the shooting. Witnesses, according to police, identified Yenerall as the man who fired five shots into Armstrong's body.

The giving of the plain circle in the marriage ceremony is emblematic of the eternity of the union, as a circle is endless.

European Aid Funds Facing Reduction Now

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 13. — (INS)—European aid funds face a sharp reduction today because the House Republican leadership contemplate dropping active support of the Marshall plan.

Republican circles report that opposition to the administration's foreign program is increasing among House GOP members.

However, it is considered unlikely that there will be a complete break between the Republicans and Democrats in the postwar bi-partisan foreign program toward Europe.

A Republican spokesman stated that a middle course may be adopted. Instead of urging GOP members to support the program, as it has in the past, the leadership would adopt a neutral attitude, leaving it up to individual Congressmen to vote as they see fit.

No firm decision has yet apparently been reached. If a "hands-off" policy is adopted, it will strengthen greatly the hands of those who favor a sharp cut in new funds for Europe.

Appropriations Asked

President Truman has asked Congress to appropriate two billion 950 million dollars for the "third installment" on the European Recovery Program, 100 million dollars more for Korean Economic Recovery, and new obligations of one billion 100 million dollars for the anti-communist military assistance program.

The House and Senate committees on foreign affairs are now considering the new requests for economic aid abroad and consideration of the new map recommendation will follow.

Rep. Smith (R) Wis., who is expected to lead the fight for a reduction, said he had not decided yet how large a cut to back, but he added, "the House is going to cut it and I think the House is in a mood to cut it substantially."

Republican spokesmen said three British actions during the past year have alienated many GOP members and Democrats as well and have contributed to the sharp rise in opposition to further foreign aid. They were:

1. British recognition of the Chinese regime.
2. The action taken by the British Hongkong government in turning over to the Chinese Communists 92 Nationalist planes claimed by an American aviation firm headed by Claire Chennault.
3. The British curtailment of petroleum imports.

LIGHT STANDARDS

BLOOMFIELD, N. J.—(INS)—The nation's lighting standards would be lifted if only one percent of the cost of a new home were set aside for lighting, excluding the wiring. Yet, even that falls far short of the two or three percent recommended by the Westinghouse director of home lighting for a commendable lighting job. The one percent is double the amount budgeted for lighting in most new homes.

Says 6,000 Young Workers, Students In Pro-Red Front

WASHINGTON, March 13.—(INS)—A former FBI undercover agent told House spy probes today that nearly 6,000 young workers and students are now members of a new communist-front youth organization.

Matthew Cvetic, testifying before the un-American activities committee, identified the organization as the Labor Youth League and warned that it has made "substantial gains" in a membership drive in recent months.

He also presented secret communist records showing that a league campaign for funds netted contributions totaling $34,507.17, of which $11,735.57 went to national headquarters in New York City.

The membership rosters were turned over to the committee by Cvetic, who served as a government informant for seven years while posing as a communist. They disclosed that the youth front has increased its membership by more than 2,200 from December 5, 1949, to February, 1950. The secret documents also showed the communist-controlled front is active in 13 states and the District of Columbia.

Only 3,292,881 Americans were counted in the first decennial census of the United States in 1790.

Navy Quotas In County Increased

Quota for enlistments in the regular Navy has been increased in Lawrence County, it is announced by Chief Roy K. Coleman, of the local navy recruiting office.

A conference was called last week by Lt. Comdr. J. A. Matone at the old post office building in Pittsburgh, at which the new quotas were set.

Any men between the ages of 17 and 31, who are interested in enlisting can obtain further information at the navy recruiting office in the post office building.

New States Make Problems For Blue Field Designers

By GEORGE MOISE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 13.—Flag designers are in for a big headache if Alaska and Hawaii are admitted to the union.

The problem arises from the fact that one star must be added for each additional state, and there is no way to arrange 49 or 50 stars in exactly symmetrical rows.

One suggestion is that the design go back to five rows of 10 stars each, if there are to be 50 states. That might alter the appearance of the flag considerably.

Another and more drastic suggestion calls for the stars to be arranged in circular form, as they were in the flags provided for by the Continental Congress more than 150 years ago.

The chief military authority on the subject is Arthur Dubois, chief of the army's "heraldic" branch and in charge of designs for emblems and medals for the defense department generally.

Presidential Board

Dubois said he is not making any suggestions, because if the situation arises President Truman will probably appoint a board to redesign the flag.

Adm. George Dewey, hero of Manila, headed such a board to redesign Old Glory when New Mexico and Arizona were admitted to the union in 1912.

Dubois has dug deep into the history of the flag for possible suggestions.

He found that in the early days the flag star arrangement was varied according to the tastes of different flag makers.

Occasionally, in early times, a steamship firm would arrange the stars to form the initials of the company—a practice that would not be tolerated today.

Always A Problem

In most cases when the number of states was uneven, the rows were also uneven, or were staggered.

When there were 35 states, the stars were arranged in five symmetrical rows of seven stars each.

The admission of the 36th state, at the start of Civil war, raised a question similar to the one which may be faced if Alaska and Hawaii are admitted.

Some flags carried during the Civil war had stars arranged in two concentric circles, with four additional stars in the corner and one extra-large star in the center.

Dubois said there were also cases in which the stars were arranged "in the shape of one large star".

Since there has been no change since 1912, the executive order issued by President Taft on the recommendation of the Dewey board in 1912 is technically still in effect. It merely provides that the flag shall be made in accordance with designs furnished by the navy.

YANKEE INGENUITY

TOYKO—(INS)—The Japanese exposed to American military phraseology for more than four years, have included some of the G. I. terms into their own vocabulary. But it took an enterprising lingerie dealer to hit the jackpot by putting some of the now-familiar words to practical use. He produced a series of variously-tinted panties and had the injunction "Off Limits" embroidered on them in contrasting colors.

LARGEST PEACE TIME WAR GAMES

VIEQUES ISLAND, P. R.—Invaders scramble up the beaches during climax of "Operation Portrex," largest peacetime war games ever held by United States. Thousands of Army, Navy and Air Force men took part in the maneuver, both as defenders and attackers.

Junior Sportsmen Gather At Volant

In spite of the fact that a disappointment was in store for the members of the Volant Junior Sportsmen when they met Thursday evening in the boro school-house, plans were made for an interesting summer.

"Pat" Patterson, of the Union high school faculty, who was scheduled to speak at the meeting was forced to cancel the engagement, he has promised to talk to the youngsters at their April meeting.

President of the newly organized club, Robert E. Clarke, presided, with eighteen of the twenty-three charter members present. According to Gordon Potter, Lion program chairman of the group, the service club will sponsor a fishing contest for the boys during summer months. Plans and rules are not completed but it was announced that there will be a limit on the area of waters to be fished, likely all in the Volant-Leesburg districts. Details will be made known upon their completion.

RUM RATION
NEW YORK—(INS)—Rum as a regular ration for the Continental Army during the American Revolution was labeled a "must" by John Hancock. In a letter from Boston dated August 15, 1781, he told Major General Lincoln: "It is of such importance that the army should be filled up and regularly supplied, that you may depend on exertions of the executive here shall be wanting to effect those purposes."

SPRINGFIELD (SF)—Area of Illinois' coal deposits, estimated at 42,000 square miles, is the largest of any state. About one-half the state's counties have coal mines.

Sends Dutch Salt For Needed Dyes

NEW YORK, March 13.—(INS)—There may be "an awful lot of coffee in Brazil" but there's no shortage of salt in the Netherlands today.

The explanation was given in an indictment handed down by a federal grand jury yesterday against Irving Grossman, 29, of Los Angeles.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Martin Klein said Grossman learned from an exporters' magazine that a Rotterdam firm sought to purchase $43,000 worth of export dyes.

According to Klein, Grossman bought 100 drums in New York, filled them with $800 worth of salt and shipped them to Rotterdam.

Klein said the hoax was discovered after Grossman had received his payment of $43,000.

Do You Want a "Model" Child?

Of course, it's natural when one's child is acting "like a little devil" to feel that it would be nice to have a "model" youngster. But when one sees these "model" children in action, it's a different story.

Eight-year-old Frank has been raised to be a perfect little gentleman. No matter what has happened during the day in his third-grade group, he bids goodbye to his teacher with "Thank you, Miss Brown. I had a very good time at school today." She knows and he knows that this often isn't true, but it's the polite thing to say.

The other children call Elaine a "goody-goody". She is likely to let them know that "it's not nice to do that" or "The teacher (or Mama) wouldn't want us to do that". In the eyes of many grown-ups, she's a very well-behaved little girl.

The "model" child, as we usually think of him, is not a very happy one. Nor is he developing relationships with other youngsters that will insure a sound social development. The "better than thou" attitude that is built up, the complete dependence on grownups' approval, are poor things out of which to build a healthy personality.

CHEWTON

SCHOOL BOARD MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the Chewton Independent School Board was held on Saturday evening. Routine business was conducted and a discussion was held on securing a teacher for a handicapped student. The next meeting will be held on April 1.

CHEWTON NOTES

Misses Eleanor Rozanski and Julia Woloszyn were visitors in Ellwood City on Monday evening. Misses Nora Hennon and Barbara St. Clair and James McMillin, James Dombeck and James Leopardo attended band practice at the Lincoln High school in Ellwood City on Monday evening. The band will give a concert at the school on March 16 and 17.

Mrs. Gale Allen and daughters Carol and Judy were visitors in New Castle on Monday evening.

Mrs. John Rozanski visited on Tuesday with her mother, Mrs. Rose Smith, who is confined to her home in Ellwood City by illness.

Miss Eleanor Rozanski visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Rozanski in New Castle on Tuesday.

Mrs. Anthony Buchalski was a visitor in Ellwood City on Monday. Mrs. Elmer Badger was a visitor in New Castle on Monday.

AZALEA GROWER

DAPHNE, Ala.—(INS)—John W. Moreland, Jr., is helping the American flower fancier by putting on the market an azalea plant that costs less than the average pack of cigarettes. Moreland, owner of the Spanish Fort Nursery, near Daphne, got the idea to raise azalea plants while in the army during the last war. He not only sells his plants through his retail shop and by mail order, but often tours Alabama selling the plants to home owners who appreciate the beauty of the azalea blossom.

Lions Club Members Have Volant Meeting

What could have been considered a perfect evening was enjoyed by members of the Volant Lions' club at their first meeting of the month in the Volant Methodist church.

An excellent roast beef dinner followed by a short business meeting and amusing fishing tales combined to form the program. The tales were told by "Rosey" White, who has served as fish warden for the past several years. He related amusing incidents which he has witnessed as well as giving much informative data on laws, types of fish, and work in the hatcheries in the state.

During the business meeting, conducted by King Lion Hillard, Lion Potter reported on the recent organization of the Junior Sportsmen in the boro. As an aid to this group, Lion Clarke made a motion that the club sponsor a fishing contest among the members of the new club during coming months. Following the seconding and carrying of the motion, the Lions voted to further assist the boys by donating a fund for their treasury. Other business transacted concerned routine matters of the service club.

TWO-PLATOON EATERY

HUNTINGDON, Pa.—(INS)—The two-platoon system of eating has ended at Juniata college. Because of a resident enrollment beyond the capacity of its dining hall, the college has been forced to hold two servings for each meal for "more than a decade," according to Miss Frances J. Mathias, college dietitian. The opening of a $110,000 dining hall addition doubled the present capacity and the additional space permits the seating of 464 students and provides "family style" eating for all resident students at tables for eight.

Three Men Are Hurt In Airplane Crash

SCRANTON, Pa., March 13.—(INS)—Three men were injured today when their ice-coated small airplane crashed in a field during a forced landing near Newfoundland, Wayne county.

The injured were taken to Stroudsburg General Hospital. State police identified them as Patrick Valino, 42, the pilot; William Sloan, 40, and Nicholas DeLuccia, 51, all of Patterson, N. J. Valino and Sloan walked a half mile for aid following the crash. DeLuccia, the most seriously injured, remained on the ground and was carried off later by police.

State police reported the plane took off during a snow and sleet storm and quickly iced up. Valino told police he hit a tree stump when he attempted to land the plane.

Radio Editors Pick Benny As Greatest

NEW YORK, March 13.—(INS)—Jack Benny was selected today as the greatest radio personality during the last 25 years, in a national poll of radio editors conducted by the trade paper Radio Daily.

Bing Crosby was a close second, and Bob Hope and Amos 'n Andy were tied for third place.

In the non-professional category, the late President Roosevelt was given an overwhelming majority of the votes. One editor commented: "Mr. Roosevelt relied almost entirely on radio to instill confidence, faith and courage in this nation."

Daughter Of Professor To Be Chief Witness

IOWA CITY, Ia., March 13.—(INS)—A professor's attractive married daughter is expected to be the state's principal witness in the "candlelight slaying" trial of husky Robert E. Bednasek, University of Iowa student.

Bednasek, accused of the first degree murder of pretty Margaret Anne (Gee) Jackson, 20, of Burlington, Ia., his campus sweetheart, goes on trial before District Judge James Gaffney tomorrow in Iowa City.

The girl listed by the state as a witness is Mrs. Gloria Schone Johnson, a former university co-ed friend of both Bednasek and the brunette Gee.

Gloria, daughter of associate Prof. F. P. Schone of the university's engineering department, is expected to tell of threats against Gee allegedly made by Bednasek.

To Ask Death Penalty
Johnson county Attorney Jack White has indicated he will ask the death penalty for the student of abnormal psychology. White declared:

"We will prove for the state that the death of Miss Jackson was a brutal, premeditated murder."

Bednasek has claimed that his co-ed sweetheart "collapsed" during a game of "blackout" in a room at the "Empty Arms" rooming house in Iowa City, where the couple had gone after attending a fraternity house dance December 11.

Earlier the couple had dined by candlelight in the room.

Bednasek has been under "voluntary observation" at the university psychopathic hospital for the past week in what defense attorneys described as a move to build up his morale for the trial. They declared they will not base their case on a plea of insanity.

Services Available To Children Will Be Probed In State

HARRISBURG, March 13.—(INS)—Health, welfare, education and employment services available to children, will be scrutinized by a citizens advisory committee charged today by Gov. James H. Duff with completing a report by fall.

The committee will draft recommendations to improve the services and plan Pennsylvania's participation in a White House conference on children and youth December 3-7.

Governor Duff said the committee will act as a factfinding and advisory group to the interdepartmental committee on children's services which consists of a deputy attorney general and directors of bureaus in the state departments of health, labor and industry, public assistance and public instruction and welfare.

Ira J. Mills, Director of the Bureau of Community Services, Department of Welfare and Interdepartmental Committee Chairman, said the first meeting of the group will be held at Harrisburg March 29. The Governor will speak at the first session.

The committee includes: H. J. Heinz II, of the H. J. Heinz Co., Pittsburgh, chairman; Mrs. John Phillips, Pittsburgh, and Dr. Joseph Stokes, Philadelphia, vice-chairman.

Regional chairmen are the very Rev. Eugene Gallery, S. J., of the University of Scranton; the Hon. S. Winnet, of the Philadelphia Municipal court; Ritchie Lawrie Jr., of Harrisburg; Miss Lucy Norton, General Electric Co., Erie, and Miss Helen Leovy, of Ligonier. Miss Helen W. McManus, Harrisburg was named executive secretary.

Stanley Galanski At Lackland Base

Stanley R. Galanski, R. D. 7, has been accepted for AF officer candidate school, and departed for Lackland Air Force base, San Antonio, Tex., to begin his training. Upon completion of his training he will be commissioned a second lieutenant and be eligible for a regular commission in the United States Air Force.

Hanson Defends Self In McCarthy Charges

WASHINGTON, March 13.—(INS)—Haldore Hanson, State Department chief of the point four program, defended himself categorically against charges of Sen. McCarthy (R) Wis., that he has communist leanings.

Hanson conceded each of the facts stated by McCarthy but disputed the senator's interpretation of them. Hanson said:

"We have to judge the facts against the background of events in those days. We are assigned to cover the resistance of the communists against the Japanese in China. Now we are trying to judge those same facts in relation to world politics."

Hanson in 1937 to 1947 was a reporter-photographer in China. He moved regularly through the Japanese lines and was able to smuggle out copy to the Associated Press offices in Peiping by communist courier through the Japanese lines.

Seek To Beautify Roadsides In State

HARRISBURG, March 13.—(INS)—A "$1,000 a mile" state-wide roadside beautification contest was launched today by the Pennsylvania Roadside Council.

Groups or individuals interested in cleaning up and beautifying a mile of state highway are eligible to compete, with entries to be submitted before July 1.

First prize of $1,000, and second and third prizes of $500 and $250 will be awarded as part of "Pennsylvania Week" in October, according to Mrs. William H. Blester, of Media, contest chairman.

Farm Employment In Nation Lower

WASHINGTON, March 13.—(INS)—The bureau of agricultural economics reports that farm employment is about 50,000 workers lower than for a similar period last year. Latest figures show that there are about 8,322,000 persons working on farms, compared with last year's 8,370,000.

Family employment was down one per cent, while hired help was up slightly, the bureau reported.

Gubitchev To Leave U.S. On Next Monday

NEW YORK, March 13.—(INS)—Valentin A. Gubitchev, convicted Russian spy, formally notified Federal Judge Sylvester Ryan today of his wish to leave the United States on March 20 aboard the Polish Liner Batory.

The decision enables the former Russian United Nations employee to dodge the 15-year prison term which was suspended on condition he leave this country within two weeks of his date of sentence.

Gubitchev was convicted with ex-government girl Judith Coplon of espionage conspiracy in behalf of Russia. Miss Coplon also was sentenced to 15 years.

The notification was made in court by Gubitchev's attorney, Abraham L. Pomerantz, who said he was "officially authorized" to state that the Russian plans to leave on the date and ship mentioned.

Extraordinary Precautions
Judge Ryan ordered extraordinary precautions taken when Gubitchev sails. He said:

"I am concerned with the manner in which this man is to leave the country."

"I want to be advised when this ship will sail, then, a few hours before on that day, Valentin Gubitchev may be arraigned before me and I will carry out his sentence."

Gubitchev will leave the country in custody of a United States marshal who will take him to the ship. I wanted to be assured that he will go back to his country and never come back.

"I want him placed on a revenue cutter which might meet his ship at Ambrose Light or some other convenient place."

This meant that Gubitchev will not be permitted to board the Batory from the pier, like an ordinary traveler.

Water Situation In New York Brightens

WASHINGTON, March 13.—(INS)—The Interior department reports that the water situation in New York is brightening.

Ground-water levels generally rose during February in upstate New York because of rain. Water levels in western New York, previously quite low, have fully recovered from last year's drought and are now near normal.

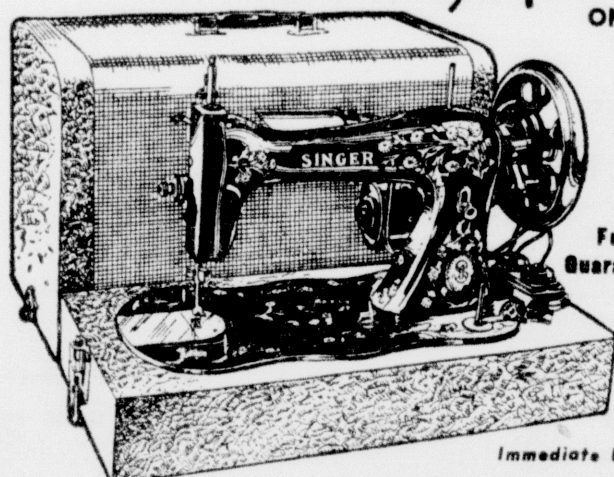

The outlook for spring runoff in the northeastern states has improved considerably. Although the snow cover is still below normal over much of New York and New England, conditions are substantially better than a month ago, the Interior department said.

WASHINGTON—(SF)—All except eight of the signers of the Declaration of Independence were born on American soil.

M.E.G. Group
Annual DinnerAuxiliary Enjoys
Anniversary Event

Members of the M. E. G. Auxiliary of Mahoningtown Presbyterian church, were entertained on Friday evening, in the home of Miss Ethel Scheidehammer of 606 West Madison avenue. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Herman Alexander, Mrs. John Martin, and Mrs. Gula Galbraith.

Special guests were Mrs. Marjorie Walker, Mrs. Gwen Stone, and Mrs. Phyllis Culbertson. A splendid anniversary dinner was served, on tables beautifully decorated in St. Patrick Day motif. Invocation was given by the president, Mrs. G. G. Horchler.

Mrs. Edwin Walker used the Easter theme for the devotional meditation. Roll call was answered with each member reciting a verse of scripture. Mrs. Horchler was in charge of business session. Several future projects were under consideration. Mrs. Wade Daugherty reported on the executive meeting held recently at Y. W. C. A. There was a splendid report concerning the Barbara Scotia Mission project, which has been over-subscribed.

Spring Presbyterian is scheduled for April 19, at Westfield Presbyterian church. Delegates from the auxiliary are planning to attend.

Mrs. Ronald Gilkey gave an interesting discussion on "Building The Right Foundation." Meeting closed with the Mizpah benediction. Mrs. Evan Campbell of 109 Northview avenue, will be hostess to the group on April 13.

Senator Proposes Funds For European Recovery Be Sliced

WASHINGTON, March 13.—(INS)—Sen. Hickenlooper (R) Iowa, on Friday proposed a 20 percent cut in the two billion, 950 million dollars asked by the administration for the third year of the European recovery program.

Hickenlooper made his proposal in the form of an amendment to the ERP bill at a closed session of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Chairman Connally (D) Tex., said that because a number of members were absent, no vote was taken on the Hickenlooper proposal.

The administration asked authorization for two billion, 950 million dollars in new funds for ERP and authority to use 1950 million dollars of funds expected to be unspent by June 30.

Hickenlooper proposed that the authorization for new funds be slashed by 600 million dollars, from two billion, 950 million to two billion, 350 million.

Connally said the general feeling of members present was that since this is an authorization bill, the full amount asked by the administration should be approved. He said this would give members an opportunity to vote on the full program when the question of appropriations arises.

Croton Church Scene
Of Revival Service

Croton Methodist church was the scene Sunday evening of the Methodist protracted revival series which have been moving from church to church over the past two weeks. A good attendance was on hand for the service.

Rev. Merle Weaver served as chairman and presided over the meeting in the absence of the pastor, Rev. Owen Shields. Rev. Weaver also directed the song service. Miss Lena Mae McConnell was heard in a medley of "The Old Rugged Cross" and "Must Jesus Bear the Cross Alone". The Croton choir was also heard during the service.

Rev. A. C. Howe, pastor of the Epworth Methodist church, spoke and conducted the altar service. A good response was observed during the invitation.

Although the services officially closed Sunday evening some of the churches will continue the series this evening at the Hillville Methodist church with Rev. G. E. Shafter as the speaker.

Holy Week Series
Planned In City

First Methodist church will be the scene of a series of Holy Week services starting Monday, April 3, from noon to 12:30 p. m. culminating in the three hour Good Friday service.

The series follows with the leader and speaker. According to Mr. day, April 3, leader, Rev. Elmer Joy; speaker, Rev. Arthur D. Wenger; Tuesday, April 4, leader, Rev. A. C. Thompson; speaker, Rev. Adam E. Simon; Wednesday, April 5, leader, Rev. Everett Spring; speaker, Rev. O. W. Hurst; Thursday, April 6, leader, Rev. James A. Gaiser; speaker, Rev. J. Calvin Rose; Friday, April 7, Good Friday, three-hour service, participated in by various ministers.

Senator Taft Says
Budget Can Be Cut
Several Billions

CLEVELAND, March 13.—(INS)—Senator Robert A. Taft asserted Friday that two to three billion dollars can be sliced off the 40 billion dollar federal budget.

In Cleveland for two speeches and a series of conferences, the Ohio senator spoke in favor of an overall cut of one billion dollars in foreign aid programs and occupational spending.

He also stated that another billion dollars could be saved by employing the recommendations of the Hoover commission.

Estimate Strikes Have Cost Some 700,000 Cars

DETROIT, March 13.—(INS)—Ward's report today estimated that the steel, coal and Chrysler strikes have cost the automotive industry 700,000 cars and trucks in the last six months.

The statistical agency estimated this cost producers $925,000,000 in terms of the wholesale value of the lost production.

BOOK BALANCE

CHICAGO—(INS)—Municipal officials of South Berwick, Me., paid with their blood to keep their town out of the red in 1949, the Municipal Finance Officers Association reports. According to the association, South Berwick's town manager and four of its seven selectmen recently donated a pint of blood each to help defray the cost of a hospital bill of a 79-year-old townsman and to keep from overspending their budget. The town's three other selectmen were unable to be donors because of physical condition.

NOW IT'S YOUR TURN TO BLOSSOM OUT

Tune in HENRY J. TAYLOR, ABC Network, every Monday evening.

YOU'VE seen it happen with the family down the street, the friends across town, the folks you went to school with.

They started out, as most folks do, with a car of modest size—and still more modest price.

Maybe they moved themselves up a bit, step by step, to the top-bracket models in that particular price range.

Then they discovered something.

It doesn't cost much more—sometimes no more—to really blossom out in a Buick.

It's not such a long stretch to take command of a great-hearted valve-in-head straight-eight—to move into the room and restfulness and steady going of a Buick—to cloak yourself in styling that's today's height of highway fashions.

You can know the good, satisfying feel of a Buick wheel in your hand—you can have the gentleness of soft coil springs on all four wheels—you can revel in the handiness of cars that are big in room and big in repute, yet traffic-sized and easy to park and put away.

Maybe—who knows till you inquire?—you can manage the magic silkiness of Dynaflow Drive* in all its 1950 perfection—of a certainty you'll find the model that's twin to your heart's desire among the many choices Buick gives you for 1950.

So why not make this your year to blossom out in a Buick, as so many have before you? Why not find out the dollars-and-cents story of Buick—it even includes some very happy figures on gas economy—from your own Buick dealer?

See him now, will you—and help yourself to some real fun this season!

BUICK ALONE HAS Dynaflow

AND WITH IT GOES:

HIGHER-COMPRESSION Fireball valve-in-head power in three engines, five hp ratings. ## Reports Made By Fire Chief

Alleged Nuisances Reported To Council

When council met Monday in city hall, Fire Chief Herman Steinbrink presented two reports concerning alleged nuisances existing in two buildings here, the Dean Block, Croton avenue, and Winters Block, East street.

Upon motion of Safety Director R. I. Davis, council decided to view both buildings March 28, to determine if the building were as charged by the fire chief.

The Dean block several weeks ago was damaged by fire.

PLAN MORE LIGHTS

Pennsylvania Power company reported to council that a recent survey shows three 2,500 candle-power lights are needed, hence council, upon motion of Councilman R. I. Davis agreed to have the company install the lights in Scioto street, south of Long avenue; Reynolds street, near School street, and in Hazen street, north of a present light.

REQUEST IMPROVEMENT

Property owners of Ralph avenue asked city council to grade and pave the avenue, which is the dividing line between the city and South New Castle borough. Some properties are in the city, others in the borough. They said they would pay for the improvement. The petition was submitted to the engineer's bureau to ascertain the number of properties concerned, and interest involved.

O'LEARY STARTS WORK

Joe O'Leary was appointed by council, upon recommendation of E. Gene Schweinsberg, as commissioner of streets, began his new duties today.

Fraternal Order of Police have requested council to provide a $50 allotment for uniforms, for each policeman, this year.

The city appropriated from general revenue $15,000, for the city's share of playgrounds to the Municipal Recreation Board.

Holy Name Group In Drive Against 'Bad' Literature

Approximately 400 members of the St. Vitus Holy Name society received communion at 7 o'clock mass Sunday morning at St. Vitus church.

Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita officiated.

Immediately after the mass the group assembled in the parish hall and breakfast was served by the Young Ladies Sodality.

Tickets for the father and sons communion and breakfast were distributed by the members and plans for an elaborate rally were made.

Rocco Piscuneri delivered an address dealing with the marks of a good Christian in the present day.

Reads Letter

Fr. Raymond Heintz, spiritual director of the Holy Name society, also spoke and asked the assembly to live a real Holy Name life. He also read a letter from Rev. Fr. Lachner of Pittsburgh who is the head of the Holy Name societies in this diocese. The letter stressed the importance of the group's drive against obscene literature and speech.

A number of the condemned magazines and comic books were listed and all members were asked not only to refrain from reading this type of literature but also to refuse to patronize business houses that sell this kind of material. A very extensive drive against this material is now being conducted in Pittsburgh and other major cities.

Louis Colella and Nicholas Toscano were appointed to handle the father and son communion breakfast tickets. Art Budalazze and Rocco Letrent were reappointed for another year to handle the table committee.

The Bible was awarded to James Parks whose name was drawn at the end of the meeting.

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK, March 13.—(INS)—Leather is lovely for footwear—but for the torso, it's more so.

Any type leather that's suitable for shoes or gloves can be whipped into a high-fashion coat, jacket, cape or suit, according to New York designer Philip Sills.

He points to tangerine-colored suede, soft white kidskin and natural beige calf as the top coat fabrics for spring, 1950.

And if a lady wants luxury—black antelope or gold kid make slick slickers.

Though leather coats are tagged at a precious $75 to $300 on the average, Sills feels no smart woman should be put out by the output, because:

"They're never outdated, usually exclusive-looking, and always repulsive to moths!"

HAT THROWN OUT OF POLITICAL RING

TRENTON, N. J.—Ruled out of a race for the seat of Rep. Mary T. Norton of Jersey City, James F. Murray III must feel that he is the nation's youngest frustrated politician. The two-year-old boy was entered by his father, James F. Murray, Jr., who was the first candidate to file a petition for the vacant seat. Shortly after another petition was filed by James Murray, no kin. So James, Jr., filed a petition naming his son to point out how preposterous are what he termed efforts to confuse the voters by entering another Murray in the race.

Methodist Youth Rally On Thursday

Methodist Youth Fellowship of the New Castle sub-district will hold its annual spring rally on Thursday, March 16, at the Croton Methodist church. The rally starts at 7:30 p. m.

The main business will be the election of officers for the coming year. After the business meeting a singingship will be held, led by Rev. Merle Weaver. At eight o'clock Dr. R. F. Galbreath, former president of Westminster college and local Presbyterian minister, will bring the message of the evening. This eight o'clock service is open to the public. An installation service will conclude the evening's meeting.

St. Michael's Group

Members of St. Michael's Holy Name society gathered in the church Sunday morning. After observing communion, the following officers were elected: president, Albert Gaydos; vice president, Joseph Hudak; secretary, John Stoflick, Jr.; and treasurer, Mike Hudak.

Raymond Ross In

Naval Hospital

Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Ross of 1013 Huey street that their son, Ray, of the U. S. Navy is about to undergo another operation at the U. S. Naval hospital in Newport, R. I.

Seaman Ross is just recuperating from his first operation of February 13. He will return to his ship, the U. S. S. William M. Wood, D. D. 715 for duty, stationed in Newport, following his recovery.

Molar Plate Gives

Quick Identification

CHICAGO, March 13.—(INS)—Pvt. Leo Niemitz of nearby Fort Sheridan put the bite on a Chicago bank to get a U. S. savings bond cashed.

When a cashier at the National Bank of North Chicago asked him for identification, Niemitz whipped out his upper dentures. Printed there were his name and serial number.

The bank cashed the bond.

New Program Is Being Shaped For Morganza School

HARRISBURG, March 13.—(INS)—Welfare Secretary William C. Brown today said a new program for the Pennsylvania Training School at Morganza is being shaped by the Welfare Department and the school trustees.

Brown, along with Deputy Welfare Secretary M. W. Denison and Department Comptroller E. S. Ervin, met with Morganza trustees Friday to lay groundwork for the new program.

"In the near future when final details have been completely worked out, this will be made known along with records of the improvements to date and changes in the operation of the school," Brown said.

Morganza several months ago came under welfare department fire when stories of lax discipline and unsatisfactory training schedules came to light.

The investigation led to the ouster of Superintendent J. Elmer Johnston.

Word has been received of the birth of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Cramer of 182 Elm street, Oberlin, O., on March 6. The baby has been named Jennifer Ann. Mr. Cramer is a member of the faculty of Oberlin Conservatory of Music. The couple are parents of another daughter, if he were completely blind.

ALCOHOLIC CURE
TOKYO.—(INS)—Mrs. Tadae Koito, 44, wanted to cure her husband Torao, 45, of his drinking habit. But because police frowned on the method used to bring about the hoped for cure, she is now in jail together with her sister and brother-in-law. The trio is charged with having squirted hydrochloric acid into Torao's only good eye. Police quoted Mrs. Koito as saying: "I had hoped that my husband would quit drinking if he were completely blind."

DAIQUIRI

NEW YORK.—(INS)—The Daiquiri, one of the favorite rum cocktails, was given its name by a young U. S. army officer during the Spanish-American war. Story has it that Capt. George Bell, Jr., who later attained the rank of brigadier general, was toasted upon arrival at Daiquiri, Oriente province with a delectable local drink made of rum and lime juice. He liked it, found that it had no special name and promptly named it after the town itself.

Eclipses of the moon in 1950 are due on April 2 and Sept. 26.

Moose Distribute Aid To Miners In Canonsburg Area

CANONSBURG, Pa., March 13.—(INS)—The Loyal Order of Moose today began distributing 12 tons of clothing, food and shoes to destitute miners' families in a five-county area.

Charles Susnak of Canonsburg, head of the Moose committee, said the supplies will be delivered to miners in Greene, Washington, Fayette, Westmoreland and Cambria counties.

The committee is operating under an original appropriation of $6,000 which has been supplemented by contributions from subordinate lodges.

Susnak pointed out that even though the miners have returned to work, their financial condition is such as to make many of them destitute for some time.

Television Banned For New York State Families On Relief

MINEOLA, N. Y., March 13.—(INS)—Commissioner of Public Welfare Edwin W. Wallace Friday banned television sets for families receiving welfare aid in Nassau county.

He ordered four families on relief to return their sets to the store and he cut the allotment of a woman who refused to give up her set.

Wallace told the families, "you are receiving a little bit too much from me—just about as much too much as you are paying for your television sets."

State Lets Contracts For New Raccoon Park

Former Premier Says Communists Licked In France

NEW YORK, March 13.—(INS)—Former French Premier Paul Reynaud said today that communism in France cannot defeat the combined forces against it.

Reynaud, now a member of the French National Assembly, arrived in New York on the Ile De France for a tour of America as chairman of the economic commission of the European assembly.

The former premier spoke of the recent vote of the French assembly on anti-sabotage legislation, and said:

"When the government is in conflict with the Communist party, all the other parties, vote for the government. It's automatic."

He hailed the passage of the anti-sabotage measure as a "very good thing" for France.

Reynaud reported there is no revolutionary spirit in the working class in France. He assailed, however, the French pay bonus.

"If you recognize that wages which are less than 15,000 francs a month too low, you can't escape giving a bonus for a month. Things will not be cheaper after that and the people know that."

Crown Prince Otto
Explains Saucers'

SALEM, O., March 13—(INS)—Crown Prince Otto of Austria believes that the "flying saucers" are actually Russian map recording devices.

Prince Otto, speaking before a Salem town hall audience, said that after the war Russia obtained from Germany nine V-type weapons, two of which had been fully developed.

The Russians have developed one of these into a flying saucer with the aid of German scientists, said Otto.

But the crown prince declined to offer a theory on how the saucers took off or got back to Russia.

There were 626,000 divorces in the United States in 1946, an all-time high.

EGG DISHES SATISFY FAMILY
APPETITES

Eggs are satisfying food at any time, but during the Lenten season they will appear more often, as the main dish of many family meals. An egg a day for good health can easily be observed.

Because eggs are a highly perishable food, they lose quality fast if not handled properly. Good storage of eggs is important. The best place to keep eggs is in the refrigerator in a covered container away from strong odors. In storing eggs, keep the large end up. Plastic containers are excellent for storing eggs.

Eggs are high in food value. They contain high quality protein for tissue building, iron, phosphorus, and calcium needed for building red blood, strong bones and teeth, and vitamin A, important in maintaining health of skin, eyes, and mucous membranes.

Eggs are so versatile that they may be used for every meal. Here is a tasty main dish recipe for eggs.

Eggs In A Nest

2 eggs, yolks and white beaten separately.

6 cups mashed potatoes.

1 cup crumbled sausage or chopped leftover meat, if desired.

6 eggs, whole.

1. Season potatoes and beat until fluffy.

2. Stir in beaten egg yolks and meat if used.

3. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites.

4. Pile into buttered baking dish and heat until puffed.

5. Make 6 depressions with a spoon, slip an egg into each, and season. Return to oven and bake until eggs are done.

Vegetable Acreage
Expected To Rise

WASHINGTON, March 13—The Bureau of Agricultural Economics reports that the vegetable acreage for spring harvest of 14 of the 21 spring crops may be 12 percent more than last year.

The indicated total tonnage of commercial truck crops for fresh market during the 1950 winter season is 10 percent more than last winter and 24 percent higher than for the latest 10 year average.

Wisconsin is the leading dairy cattle, milk products and hemp-producing state.

Around Hollywood

By FRANK NEILL

(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, March 13—Gloria DeHaven, a cute kid with a Varga girl figure, wanted to gamble. She is satisfied now she shuffled her cards correctly.

The blue-eyed babe risked the security of a major studio contract to move out on her own.

It was a gamble for sky-high stakes.

Gloria, whose demure beauty and dramatic ability have made her a leading screen figure, declared: "Several friends warned I was taking too big a chance and advised me to stay put."

"But I didn't think I was doing as well as I should. I don't mean financially but artistically."

Free Lancer

Gloria currently portrays a top role at 20th Century-Fox in a star-studded musical called "I'll Get By." She plunged into the free lance pool a few months after leaving Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, where she had been under contract since 1942. The swimming has been fine.

Her separation from MGM was amiable.

"We just couldn't agree on parts," she said, "and the contract was terminated through mutual agreement. No hard feelings at all."

While Gloria appeared in a succession of top-budget pictures, she rarely was happy over a role.

"Strangely enough," she explained, "I had no complaint about the length of my parts but it seemed as though I invariably wound up with thankless roles. Parts that didn't do anything for me."

"I would much rather have a strong, meaty role that runs only a few minutes instead of going all through a picture in a part that doesn't command attention of the audience. It's too easy to get lost in the shuffle."

In Background

Gloria said she recently finished a film with one of the top comedians in the business.

"He's most wonderful to work with and very considerate," she added.

"But when you're in a picture with a laugh-provoker like he is, the audience doesn't even know you're around. I'm smart enough to realize I won't draw much notice."

Her current roles, in which she teams with June Haver in a sister act and falls in love with Dennis Day, marks her 16th film since her debut eight years ago.

Her marriage to John Payne went on the rocks recently and now she says she is back on the sound stages for keeps.

"Looking back," she added: "I don't think I ever was completely happy away from my work. After all, my parents were actors and I have it in my blood."

Tuberculosis Film

Shown At Saints

Philips And James

"They Do Come Back," a film on tuberculosis, was shown to over 260 teachers, parents and pupils of the St. Phillips and James parochial school Friday afternoon, by Mrs. Jane M. Cochran, executive secretary of the Lawrence County Tuberculosis society.

After the film a discussion and question and answer period was conducted by Mrs. Cochran.

Following the formal program 44 parents were given the tuberculosis test, free of charge. The results of these tests will be read Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the school, Mrs. Cochran announced.

It is important that all persons tested be at the school at that time. Positive reactors will receive X-rays, free of charge, at the tuberculosis office.

Arrangements were made by Sister M. Ismella for the tuberculosis society to present another film, "Goodbye Mr. Germ," on April 14. Parents are invited to attend this program.

SUMMER TALKS

KNOXVILLE—(INS)—A two-day institute on social and economic community development in Tennessee has been set for July 13-14 at the University of Tennessee.

Dr. Frank B. Ward, head of the U-T economics department, announces that Tennessee's leading professional men, public officials and educators will receive special invitations to the meeting but it will also be open to the general public.

Highland Leaders
For Fourth Sunday

With an attendance of 477, Highland Bible school continued to top the attendance figures of a year ago.

The fourth week's report found two new leaders in the contests for attendance banners. The Smith class, taught by Mendal Smith, took the lead in the class attendance campaign, and now has a lead of 16 points over the Mercer class.

The new department leader is the Junior department, which has a 9 point lead over the Primary department. Adding two new members to its rolls gave the Intermediate department extra points, and it is now a close third. The Intermediates were the winners of the daily banner with a score of 173 points.

The average percentage of church attendance shows that the Wilkison class is ahead by 12 1/2 in its division. The Young People's department continues to lead the departments in church attendance.

The tabulation shows the following standings:

NATIONAL BANKRUPTCY?

To the Editor of the New Castle News.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower urges the nation "to forget about atomic warfare and think about eventual bankruptcy."

You may think that bankruptcy cannot happen to the United States, but it can. What is there to prevent it from happening?

Under the present management the national debt is increasing every year until it now amounts to about 260 billion dollars, estimated to be about $2,000 dollars for every man, woman and child in the United States.

If required to do so how many families could pay their share? I would say a very small proportion. The most of them could not even pay their share of the interest. Who is going to pay off this enormous debt? The most of the citizens have all they can do to pay their own debts, and many of them are always in debt. No use leaving it for the children to pay. They are going to be as hard hit, or possibly harder than their parents. A few of our leaders in Washington seem to realize the danger but many of them do not seem to care. The United States has loaned or given away billions of dollars to prevent communism in foreign countries, failing to realize until recently that communism was becoming a menace to this country. What this country needs is rulers who will forget about politics and work for legislation that will be for the best interests of the country and its people. The tendency of nearly all office holders is to perpetuate themselves in office as long as they can and yield to political pressure.

If we had more men in control like General Eisenhower and Senator Harry Byrd there would be some hope of preventing bankruptcy, but unless we get men of their calibre conditions may not improve.

If we become financially embarrassed where can we go for assistance?

Gets Half Column Editorial

MANCHESTER, N. H., March 13. (INS)—The Sander trial will soon be over, and not a whit too soon as far as Manchester and I are concerned. Or maybe as far as the whole state of New Hampshire and I are concerned.

With my sunny disposition and my winning ways, I am usually beloved of one and all. To my amazement, therefore, I discover that I am not apt to be elected Miss America from this district.

Certain local curmudgeons have taken umbrage over my kindly criticisms of the New Hampshire climate, blue laws, cuisine and other local oddities that have recently filled this column all written in a spirit of helpfulness and zeal for reform.

Sensitive Residents
It is now obvious that the residents of this district are not only high-type New Englanders but sensitive to boot. They have been hurt to the quick—buried somewhere within their winter woolies—by my aversions to snow, ice, high winds, skiing, maraschino cherries in martinis, and chilblains.

So this morning over the coffee, when I opened up the Manchester Paper, "The New Hampshire Morning Union" and turned to the editorial page, I discovered that New Hampshire cares—but not about me!

For the first time in my life, I have achieved the distinction of being denounced in a half column editorial, just like Harry S. Truman or Gen. Harry Vaughan or maybe Mickey Cohen. If I were a man-eating shark and there have been rumors the "Morning Union" couldn't lay it on thicker.

Envy of Press Gang
Well, sir, this is a distinction I have never expected and it is only fair to say that I am the envy of every newspaper man and woman here to cover the Sander case. Not only has the editorial writer spelled my name correctly in 8-point Bold Gothic but I am the only reporter here who has positive proof that somebody reads the stuff he writes, good, bad or indifferent.

A whole half-column of rousing denunciation of the editorial page with name in caps, is to a true newspaper man, synonymous with the Nobel prize in racing the Kentucky Derby, the Preakness and the Belmont Handicap (naturally, if one is a horse).

I may not be the girl who made good in New Hampshire, but I have certainly made good with my own kind. A corsage, with a congratulatory note, arrived from a select group of newsmen who still have enough expensive account money to chip in for a new flower.

And a volunteer bodyguard has been organized on a 24-hour basis to test the vigilantes get out of hand.

What I always say is this: If you can dish it out you ought to be able to take it. So I will report that the editorial writer seems to regard me as especially effete because of the sight of a maraschino cherry in a martini makes me sickish.

Done Dastardly Thing
On this count I do plead guilty to a weak stomach.

It is also obvious that I have done a dastardly thing in expressing a deep personal repugnance for skiing. Skiing is the biggest industry in New Hampshire, and to attack it on the home ground is like telling John L. Lewis that oil will replace coal in every American furnace by November 1, 1950.

The editorial scribe really winds up in his last paragraph and lets go with the haymaker. He says, "Amusing as the natives are to you, my dear, they are no less so than some of the visiting firewomen are to them."

The syntax isn't so good, but I get the basic idea. The hometown folks are having fun, too. Well, for heavens' sake! What's the man sore about? There's little enough to laugh about in this Arctic region and what this community obviously owes me is a vote of thanks, plus amusement tax.

I have always looked good in feathers, but never before were they accompanied by tar. And I can only quote the immortal words of the man about to be ridden out of town on a rail:

"If it wasn't for the honor, I'd just as soon walk."

Plan For Holy Week In South Side Area

South Side Ministerial Association at its last meeting, made definite plans for the observance of Holy Week in that section of the city. Good Friday will be marked with three hour services in the Central Christian church, Long avenue, from noon to three o'clock. Various ministers uniting to make the service possible include: Rev. Thomas J. Jones, Rev. F. C. Johannides, Rev. James N. Rainey, Rev. Lorena Maynard, Rev. P. Sulmonetti, Rev. Edna Patterson.

Churches cooperating include: First Congregational, Hoover Heights, Central Christian, Free Methodist, Christ Methodist, Wesleyan Methodist and Primitive Methodist.

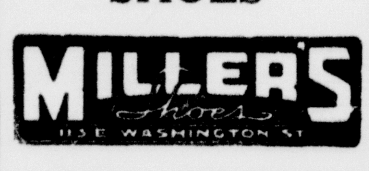

Meteorites, when they strike the earth, are completely cold.

FRIENDSHIP CLASS

The Friendship class of the Methodist church and their husbands and children enjoyed a tuxedo dinner in the church Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock.

Places were arranged for 53 guests at a beautifully appointed table. The centerpiece was a large cake with the inscription "Fourth Anniversary of the Friendship Class" with the color scheme green and white.

Rev. and Mrs. Harry Johnston were special guests with Rev. Johnston asking grace. During the business meeting conducted by the president, Mrs. Robert Ernst the following officers were elected for the new year: president, Mrs. Lee Williams; vice president, Mrs. Edward Roberts; secretary, Mrs. George Nichols; J. assistant secretary, Mrs. Waddell Dexter; treasurer, Mrs. Roy Unangst; Devotional leader, Mrs. Ferd Book; program leader, Mrs. George Primavera, Sr.; special fund, Mrs. Raymond Cyrus.

The names of secret sisters were revealed and new ones chosen for the new year.

For the program Clyde Hassig showed a number of reels of moving pictures proving a delight to the children and grown folks. After the Misses' benediction the meeting adjourned meet with Mrs. Roy Unangst in April.

Feed Store Fire In New Wilmington Early This Morning

Members of the New Wilmington volunteer fire department answered a call to the John Brown feed store on Neshannock avenue at 4 o'clock this morning.

The fire, that supposedly originated in the electric wiring, was extinguished by the first department with the help of some college students before much damage was done.

A truck driver passing through the borough first noticed the fire and notified the police. Some college students broke through the front window of the store and put out much of the blaze with fire extinguishers until the firemen arrived to finish the job.

Leaps From 12th Floor Of Pittsburgh Building
PITTSBURGH, March 13.—(INS)—Attorney Morris Feldstein, 59, committed suicide yesterday by leaping from a 12th floor office window of the Berger Building in Pittsburgh.

A small group of people, waiting for a street car, witnessed his leap. Police theorized Feldstein was despondent. He left a note on his office desk, which read:

"God, forgive me, for I know not what I am doing."

MOON TRIP

LONDON.—(INS)—Dr. Olaf Stapledon has expressed belief that it should be possible to reach the moon within a few decades "unless we blow our planet to pieces or destroy our civilization." The well-known author and philosopher pointed out that American experts already are talking of planting the Stars and Stripes on the moon. The British too, he added, are known to have plans for reaching the moon.

Modern Israel Subject Of Talk

Spencer D. Irwin
Addresses Hadassahs

Israel today, its emergence as a sovereign state through a "war that couldn't be won" its present problems and its outlook for the future were described Sunday night in The Castleton Hotel by Spencer D. Irwin of Cleveland, O. Mr. Irwin, associate editor of the Cleveland Plain Dealer and foreign columnist for that paper, spoke at the 27th anniversary of the New Castle Chapter of Hadassah. For the anniversary the ballroom was crowded to capacity.

Toured Israel

Along with a group of other observers, Mr. Irwin spent some time in recent months visiting Israel, learning at first hand of its problems, seeing for himself how democracy is working in this new member of the nations of the world.

His description of the winning of the war against the Arabs was a gripping one. With few arms, a handful of trained men, with seven Arab nations taking part in the fight against the Israelis, they were able to stop the Arabs in the Negev desert and win national freedom.

Britain's part in the battle for Israel was pictured rather darkly. The British had taken most of the arms from the Israelis before leaving, had given the Arabs arms and apparently had set the stage for a complete route of the Jewish troops.

Modern Miracles

Somewhat the Israelis secured some heavy equipment during the defense of Negva, found an old Roman road that had been built 1500 years ago and was able to support the equipment and by wiping out the Egyptian supply base rendered the attackers helpless.

This victory and the "Miracle of Safid" when a handful of young Jewish men and women routed the Arab and Syrian troops from the ancient mountain village were described grippingly by the speaker.

Today Israel is faced with a severe housing shortage, an immigration problem and an industrial problem. Mr. Irwin said the problems would be overcome through co-operation and through faith. He said Israel would never go Communist, although it would have a co-operative economy.

He described propaganda that the Arabs were being mistreated and said that the Arab standard of living had been raised by the Jews, and that 85 per cent of the Arab population were satisfied to live and work with the Jews.

"Life With Hadassah"

Following the address the women of Hadassah presented a playlet, "Life With Hadassah." It was a bit of whimsy with music and was well done. Mrs. Eliah Kaplan was the musical director, Mrs. Dan Fisher the dramatic coach and the following women forked the cast: Mrs. Harry Baron, Mrs. Frank Baron, Mrs. Jack Conn, Mrs. Abe Cohen, Miss Ina Gerson, Mrs. Leonard Groden, Mrs. Ted H. Marlin, Mrs. Harry Moresky, Miss Sylvia Moresky, Mrs. Harry Rosen, Mrs. Jack Schwartz, Mrs. Gus Slovinsky.

Opening the program the group sang the National Anthem, and Mrs. Harry Moresky delivered the invocation. Mrs. Hyman A. Frank, president of the New Castle chapter welcomed the guests and greetings were given by the donor chairman, Mrs. Leonard Smith. The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Irvin Nixon. Mrs. Jules Lipschutz delivered the benediction and the assembly closed with the Jatkivah.

Walmo P.T.A. Plans For Scout Program

Members of the Walmo Parent-Teachers Association will meet in the school building on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

The Girl Scouts will be in charge of the evening's program. Special music will be presented by the school's orchestra, with a piano solo by Sue Glenn.

Anniversary Of Legion Observed

In commemoration of the 32nd anniversary of the founding of the American Legion, Perry S. Gaston Post will have a special birthday celebration in connection with the post meeting, Tuesday evening, in the Legion Home. Commander Earl C. Moffatt announced today.

The speaker will be Bart Richards, who will tell of the incidents leading up to the founding of the Legion in 1918, and of the early history of the local post.

A talk on safety will be given by L. F. Hemenway, of the Penn Power company, which will be accompanied by pictures.

Members of the post will meet at the Legion Home this evening at 7 o'clock to pay their respects to Past Commander Lee R. Hanna, who passed away Saturday morning. Military rites will be conducted by the post Tuesday afternoon.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

An expert from the weather bureau and a big league baseball umpire were exchanging reminiscences on the top deck of the good ship Boston Belle. "I pulled an awful boner last Thursday," admitted the weather man. "I predicted a fair day, and it rained cats and dogs."

"Hm-m-m," mused the ump. "When I say fair instead of foul it usually rains too—pop bottles."

Tell-people-the-facts technique on the front page of the Raymond (Washington) Herald. "When the car overturned both girls were injured, Miss Thompson about the face, and Miss Cromwell in the back seat."

Bill Vaughn, the Kansas City

philosopher, points out, "Snow falls alike upon the just and the unjust, after which the just promptly falls upon the snow the unjust hasn't shoveled off his walk."

Male Chorus Will Be Heard In City

American Male chorus composed mostly of former G-I's will be heard in a special concert Thursday evening, April 6, in the Ben Franklin Junior high school auditorium. The group presented a similar concert last year in the city and were well received.

The chorus was born in Manila, P. L. in December 1945, and represents almost all branches of the armed forces. The group is made up of 20 singing veterans and has sung before a million and a half persons. The program gets under way at 8:30 p.m. on April 6.

Youngstown Chorus Heard Sunday Evening

A large and appreciative congregation was present last evening at First Methodist church to hear the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company Male Chorus. The director of the chorus, W. Gwyn Jenkins, displayed able leadership. Mrs. Lillian Butcher Stambaugh, a former local girl, was the accompanist. The program included "Holy City," "Thanks Be To Thee" and "The Lost Chord." Miss Kathleen Montgomery and Irwin Arbuckle were able soloists.

This union gospel hymn sing, augmented by the guest chorus, was sponsored by the First Presbyterian, First Congregational, and First Methodist churches. John W. Louer, president of Moody Men's Bible class, presided; scripture was read by James R. Rugh, president of McKinney Bible class, and prayer was offered by Grif Thomas of First Congregational church. Ministers from the three churches also participated.

Annual Tri-County Basketball Tourney Gets Under Way Tonight

Westminster Gym Scene Of Activity

Sixth annual tri-county basketball tournament gets under way tonight at Westminster college with four games on the schedule.

First game matches two long time rivals—Mt. Jackson and Bessemer—at 7 o'clock. Wampum meets Zelenople in the second tilt, scheduled for 8 o'clock. New Wilmington takes on Evans City at 9 and East Brook meets Shenango at 10.

In two previous appearances this season Mt. Jackson has defeated Bessemer—35 to 31 and 46 to 33. Wampum got its first victory of the season at the expense of Zelenople 87-34. Coach Red Bender and his Zelenople team are out to see that it isn't that bad this time.

Greyhounds-Evans City
New Wilmington meets a new opponent—to the Greyhounds—in Evans City. This game has the earmarks of the best game of the evening with both teams having better than average records.

Shenango and Mt. Jackson are common opponents of the two teams. Evans City split a pair with the two Section 24 teams, while New Wilmington split even with Shenango but dropped two to Mt. Jackson.

The final game of the evening matches East Brook and Shenango. East Brook defeated the Wildcats twice—55 to 19 and 44 to 26—in Section 24 tilts. Shenango showed how little respect it had for the past records in last year's tournament, however.

Tournament Awards
Awards to be made at the conclusion of the tournament are: Championship team will be presented with a trophy.

Members of the championship team will each be presented with a small gold basketball.

Members of the runner-up team will each be presented with a silver basketball.

Members of the consolation champs will each be presented with a bronze basketball.

An all-tournament team will be selected with each member to be presented with an individual trophy.

Awards will also be made to the tournament's most valuable player, highest scorer and best foul shooter (eight or more fouls).

Lakers Defeat Knickerbockers

(By International News Service)

Minneapolis fans can hardly remember when the Lakers last were beaten in National Basketball Association game on their own court.

The Central Division leaders easily defeated the New York Knickerbockers last night, 87 to 86, for their 29th straight home-court victory.

George Mikan of the Lakers, with 32 points, topped the scoring as usual.

Rochester, in second place in the Central Division stayed with the pace by beating St. Louis, 99 to 72.

Other scores: 90, Waterloo 89; Indianapolis 73, Philadelphia 67; Fort Wayne 86, Baltimore 75; and Syracuse 96, Boston 72.

Cleveland Browns Sign Jimmy Joe

CLEVELAND, March 13.—(INS)—Coach Paul Brown of the Cleveland Browns professional football team announced Saturday the signing of Pittsburgh halfback Jimmy Joe Robinson.

Robinson, who also starred in track, sparked Pitt to a successful season last year, pacing the Panthers' win over Indiana and taking a kickoff and running the distance in the game against Purdue. He also scored two touchdowns in the Northwestern game, one of the top upsets of the year.

Kellner Scoffs At 'Jinx' Idea

Strapping Athletics' Sophomore Hurler Has No Qualms About '50

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 13.—(INS)—Big Alex Kellner, first A's pitcher to win 20 games in a season since the days of the great Lefty Grove, scoffed today at baseball's so-called "sophomore jinx."

Kellner, a strapping six-footer who turned the trick for Connie Mack's Athletics in 1949 in his first season as a major league hurler, called the second-year jinx "a lot of nonsense."

"I don't believe in it—and never will," Kellner declared. "Why should I?"

"It's the same league, the same players and the same bats and balls. Nothing has changed except our team—and I think we'll be better this year."

"Now, why should I get worked up about this so-called jinx? From what I gather, it never bothered good players."

Optimistic View
Kellner view his 1950 prospects optimistically, although admitting that two 20-game seasons in a row is a goal seldom achieved by most pitchers.

"I know," he said, "I was lucky last year in a lot of games when the boys got me plenty of runs. But it works both ways. Some of the games I lost were hard to take. Sometimes luck is more important than a good curve ball."

Saddle Club Meets Wednesday Evening

Lawrence County Saddle and Harness association will meet Wednesday, March 15, at eight o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed McKibben, Liberty Grange road.

Final plans for a general auction at Kala-Jainen's garage will be discussed.

Walcott-Shkor Battle Tonight

Jersey Joe Favorite Over Baltimore Slugger In Louis Tuneup

PHILADELPHIA, March 13.—(INS)—Jersey Joe Walcott, the ageless cloutier, will be trying for his fourth knockout victory in a row tonight when he faces big Johnny Shkor, of Baltimore, in a scheduled ten-round windup at the Philadelphia Arena.

The fight, according to his manager Felix Boechichio, will be Joe's last engagement in the U. S. until summer, when he hopes for another try against Joe Louis.

Walcott Favorite
Optimistic over the latter possibility, Boechichio said his charge will have a "tuneup" fight for the Louis bout in Germany in May.

Although Walcott is a marked favorite in tonight's encounter, the oversized Shkor is expected to give him more trouble than his last three kayo victims—Ole Fandberg, in Sweden, Harold Johnson, in Philadelphia, and Omelio Agramonte, in New York.

Shkor, who towers over Walcott at 6-4, weighs 219, about 25 pounds heavier than Walcott. His biggest achievement was a knock-out win over Tami Mauriello.

Westminster Girls Are Co-Winners Of Basketball Tourney

EDINBORO, Pa., March 13.—Eight Westminster college women put in a busy afternoon here Saturday, defeating women's basketball teams from Thiel college, Pennsylvania College for Women and Indiana State Teachers College in that order to tie for first place in a cage tournament held in the local State Teachers college gymnasium.

Only two teams, Westminster and Edinboro, were undefeated after the afternoon's play. Each won three games. The visiting Westminster combination tripped Thiel college, 17-14, defeated P.C.W., 14-10, then swept over Indiana State, 12-1. The Westminster team represented the Women's Athletic Association of that school.

Those who played for Westminster were Julietta Frank of Farrell, Barbara Williams of Pittsburgh, Isabel and Kathy Tidd of Avonmore, Gloria Jenzer of Cliffside Park, N. J., and Claire Philipbar and Sally Snyder of Bradford.

Miss Shirley Morgan of the Westminster Physical Education department coached the group.

County Sportsman's Directors To Meet

Athletics Ship Two To Buffalo

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 13.—(INS)—Robert Harvey Stewart, 23-year-old infielder, has been optioned by Connie Mack to the Buffalo Bisons, the A's International League affiliate.

Mack also sent pitcher Jim Bell, former Ypsilanti College ace, to Buffalo. Bell was scheduled for Lincoln in the Western League, but Connie thought his performance merited a higher league.

Stewart batted .236 for Lincoln last year but hit at a .300 clip in the final six weeks of play.

Penn State Opens Spring Training

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., March 13.—(INS)—Spring football practice began today, even though the Penn State Nittany Lions are without a head coach for the second time within a year.

In the absence of Joe Bedenk, who gave up the sport in deference to baseball, the Lion grid hopefuls will inaugurate their daily drills under the direction of Earl Bruce, freshman mentor. Drills will continue for six weeks.

Junior Church Playoffs To Start

Saturday marked the final day of action in the regular schedule of the Junior Church Basketball league at the Y. M. C. A.

Playoff action begins next Saturday evening. The first four places of the combined "A" and "AA" leagues will be at stake. S. S. Alliance, second in the "AA" league, meets Second U. P., second in the "A" league, at six o'clock. AZA, first in "AA", tangles with First Baptist, first in "A", at seven.

In "A" league play Saturday Croton took Central Presby, 23 to 13. First Presby, edged Second U. P., 25 to 23.

In the "AA" loop S. S. Alliance whipped Third U. P., 31 to 27. First Methodist downed St. George, 34 to 14, and AZA defeated Epworth, 32 to 23.

Softball Umpires To Meet Wednesday

The city softball umpires will hold an important meeting Wednesday night at the Y at 8 p.m.

The meeting is for the purpose of making the laws of the association before the City Softball League holds their next meeting. Officers of the association will also be elected.

There is talk of having an A and B softball league in which case more umpires will be needed.

Rifle Match At Armory Tonight

The New Castle rifle club will meet the East Palestine, Ohio rifle club tonight at the local armory range at 8 o'clock, it was announced by Secretary Paul Carrigan.

Elwood City leading the Inter-State rifle league at present, meet Evans City at Evans City.

Brown May Get West Virginia Basketball Job

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., March 13.—(INS)—Robert N. (Red) Brown of Davis and Elkins college remained the favorite choice in guessing circles today to succeed the late Lee Patton at West Virginia university's new basketball coach.

Brown's cagers have just won the state college basketball tournament to wind up with a record of 27 wins and four losses. D. & E. will represent West Virginia in the National Intercollegiate basketball tournament at Kansas City this week.

No action on the appointment is believed likely, however, until two weeks or more. The athletic council is not scheduled to meet in the near future.

Will Meet Tonight

The Colonel Charles Young rifle club will have a practice tonight at the armory range at eight o'clock, it was announced by Secretary Tom Farrow.

All Major League Clubs See Action In Exhibition Games

(By International News Service)

Here we go again, Jameson. Remember the story about the adrenalin last day finish between the Yankees and the Red Sox way back in 1949?

Well, the American League champions and their worthy runners-up meet again today for the first time since last October. The New Yorkers and the Bostonians clash in Sarasota, Fla., and both are carrying unblemished spring training exhibition records into their latest fray.

The Yankees made it two in a row over the St. Louis Cardinals, yesterday, winning 7-1 behind a two-hit pitching job turned in by Ed Lopat, Hugh Radcliffe and Duane Pillette.

Phillies Face Player Cutting

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 13.—(INS)—There will be a job shortage on the Phillies this season because of baseball's controversial bonus rule.

Loaded with six bonus players, Manager Eddie Sawyer disclosed today he will have only 19 places for regulars.

Sawyer said that 10 or 11 of his squad will be pitchers, definitely including Russ Meyer, Kenny Heintzelman, Robin Roberts and Jim Konstanty.

Opposes Bonus Rule
Phillies' owner Bob Carpenter, Jr., has been one of the most vigorous opponents of the bonus rule since its adoption by the major leagues.

His frequent efforts to have the controversial clause repealed have been of no avail, however.

The bonus players on the 1950 Phils are Roberts, Curt Simmons, Charlie Bicknell, Milo Candini, Bob Miller and Stan Hollmig.

Ford City Meets Homestead Tonight
PITTSBURGH, March 13.—(INS)—Homestead High school and Ford City meet tonight at Pitt Stadium in a Class A WPAL semi-final game while in nearby Dormont Avalon battles Verona in a Class B semi-final contest.

GUN CLUB MEETS
Ellwood City Rod and Gun club will meet at eight o'clock tonight at their club house.

Schmitt Will Assist Jordan

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., March 13.—(INS)—An assistant coach at the University of Pittsburgh Saturday was the first aide to be appointed to the new football coaching staff at Harvard.

Harvard Athletic Director William J. Bingham named Ted Schmitt to aid Head Coach Lloyd Jordan upon Jordan's recommendation.

Schmitt played tackle for Jock Sutherland at Pitt and after his graduation in 1938 he spent three years with the Philadelphia Eagles. He coached at a Pennsylvania high school from 1941 until he entered the navy.

Sammy Snead Wins Miami Beach Open
MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 13.—(INS)—Sam Snead, golf's big money winner of the Young Sports year, was $2,000 richer today through his three-stroke triumph in the Miami Beach Open Tournament.

The White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., star carded a one-under-par 71 yesterday in the final round of the $10,000 tourney and wound up with a 72-hole total of 273—15 strokes under par.

The victory raised Senad's 1950 winnings to $10,158.

In second place was veteran Lawson Little of Monterey, Cal., who shot a 68 to finish the four-day grind with 276.

The Department of the Interior was created by an act of Congress March 3, 1849.

Penn Calls Out Spring Gridders

PHILADELPHIA, March 13.—(INS)—Not all the spring training news is coming up from the south. The University of Pennsylvania starts spring football practice today with nearly 100 candidates on deck to try out for the 1950 Red and Blue eleven, including a host of holdovers.

Coach George Munger announced Penn will continue fielding a single wing team this year, although it will make more use of the two platoon system than before.

Munger declared that the two platoons are a "must" under current rules which permit 20 to 30 more plays per game.
